WHISKY NOGGIN.

WE SELL this miniature whisky jug mounted in Silver. It holds just one gill and is cleaner and more elegant in use than the pegmeasure of the refreshment bar type. As each guest is served with one for his exclusive own it becomes unnecessary to urge the importunate question of quantity The noggin is a silent and home like suggestion of "just help yourself," while the obtrusive "half or full peg Sir!" sounds too business like.

FALL INTO A LIME-KILN.

Mr. H. P. I Lattey, Deputy Coroner, held an inquest on the body of a labourer, named Siwa Satwa (20) who died as the result of burns received by a fall in a lime kiln.

The man was employed in a lime kiln at Anjirwadi, Mazagon. About a fortnight ago he was sitting on the parapet of a kiln, when he fell asleep and dropped into the kiln. He sustained burns on the body but instead of going to hospital he resorted to household remedies. Consequently about six days ago tetanus set in and he died on Friday.

The jury returned a verdict of death from tetanus following burns received by an accidental fall into a kiln.

A FOUNDLING'S DEATH.

A newly born female child was discovered in a basket lying on the Chinch Bunder Road about a week ago. The child was taken to the Bai Motlibai Hospital where she died on Friday night. Medical examination showed that the child was prematurely born and was weak. It is not known who the parents of the child are.

The coroner held an inquest on the body on Saturday morning and the jury returned verdict of death due to premature birth.

The Brigade badge is worn on the right breast and an arm badge ou white cloth mounted on a black ribbon brassier, is worn on the right arm, whilst a St. John's pincushion and a pair of scissors are worn hanging from a black ribbon eighteen inches long and two inches wide. The only difference between the Nursing Officers' and Nursing Sisters' uniform is that the latter's Saree has a black border of half an inch and a silk woven badge is worn on the breast. No arm badge is worn by the Nursing Sisters. When on public duty the Nursing Sisters may wear a plain white Saree with the Brigade Badge.

MERCHANT SERVICE GUILD.

At the meeting of the Management Committee of the Imperial Merchant Service Guild, held at headquarters, Liverpool, which was attended by captains and officers from various ports of the United Kingdom, it was unanimously agreed that steps should be taken to open a Clyde Agency at Glasgow for the use of captains and officers, trading to and residing in the Clyde district, where all, but very few, are members of the Guild. When the Clyde Agency is established it will mean that captains and officers of the merchant service will have rooms and offices at London, Liverpool, Cardiff, South Shield, Hull and Glasgow. It may be mentioned that the Guild's membership which is strictly confined to British certificated captains and officers of the Merchant Service includes practically 75 per cent of the total number of captains and officers in active service afloat.

THE FACE IS AN INDEX TO THE HEART but with a woman it is likewise an index to her internal organism, the healthy or diseased condition of which is at once betrayed in her facial expression. While the freshness of complexion, sparkle of the eye and light and lively movement go to denote a healthy condition, the sallow face, the dragging step and the look of pain and misery are evident signs of a disordered state. Any functional disorder will promptly yield to UTRODINE the most harmless vegetable tonic and sedative for the organic diseases of women. Of all Chemists in India.

MARKET REPORT.—

A STERN AND CO:—"Think excitement is about over. Think there is a generally weaker feeling in the market. Recent general rains, with late frost crop may reach materially more."

PRIVATE :—"In consequence of bulls selling out their purchases and of more favourable crop accounts, we think it advisable to follow the decline."

WELD & CO :—" Liverpool smaller but steady market. Prices declined during the afternoon on hedge selling and absence of trade buying Manchester market quiet. New York market steady at the close on local shorts covering." Our Liverpool friends were :—" Opinion exists that recent rains in Texas will be a little beneficial. American trade conditions improving."

The American market opened 14 to 17 points lower yesterday, but closed only 1 to 2 points down in New York, and 3 to 4 points up New Orleans. The markets continue very irregular : but the general opinion seems to be in favour of some decline in the near future. The local market after declining last night to 306, for good Broach, opened at 308, and during the early part of the day steadied up to Rs. 309. Japan shippers are reported to have bought a fair line of Nagpur January yesterday, and also some fine M. G. Bengal, November delivery. They were also in the market to-day for these descriptions but there has been little business done at the advance asked. The market closed quiet but steady as under.

For ready cotton there has been a moderate enquiry but at rather lower rates which holders are not much inclined to accept.

POONA RACES.

SUCCESSFUL CLOSE OF FIRST MEETING.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

POONA, Sept. 13.

Visitors to the Poona Racecourse to-day were a little lucky, for, although rain threatened, the lightest of light showers was all that fell, and it was a beautifully fine day.

The first race—the Telegaon Plate—saved the downfall of the favourite but there was a large number of lucky punters on the winner. Tenebreuze was the most favoured of the thirteen starters, but was passed by Gafal, which paid out Rs. 59-8 to 7¾ investors. The Sandhurst Plate, which was next on the card, produced the surprise of the day. Neither Portland Lad nor Glengarry fulfilled the expectations and a rank outsider in Beroll was the winner, and returned to nineteen lucky people a dividend of Rs. 442-8.

The bad luck which Ali bin Talib's stable has experienced lately made some people nervous of Noor-ul-Malik, and prevented him being made a strong favourite for the Sholapur Plate. Accordingly Iron Chest with Brown up, was backed by a good many. Brown's mount, however, failed to get a place while Noor-ul-Malik taught a lesson to the faint-hearted by coming comfortably.

The Stand Plate was supposed to be a good thing for the English thoroughbred Kempion with Brown up, but Hilarity, which won this race two years ago, Punt, Dalmatia and Sugar Loaf were all fancied. Satellite and Hilarity were both left at the post and Kempion won very easily with Punt second and Sugar Loaf third. This was a good race for the majority of backers and the dividends were quite fair, Rs. 36-8 for win, Rs. 20, Rs. 23 and Rs. 28 for places.

The Desert Plate, however, contained a disappointment for many people. Brown's mount and Galliard seemed to be best supported but the winner turned up in Singer, on which the tote paid Rs. 109-8. There was another surprise in the Paddock Plate, on which the few backers of a quite unexpected winner received Rs. 197.

The Kirkee Plate, the last race of the day, was a bit of a puzzle, as the handicapping was excellent, and anything might have won. Both Pendil and Baloz were fancied while Roseberry and Zigomar found supporters. There was a long delay at the post. Zigomar flattered his supporters to the bend, when he died away, Mr. Oomer's Kaharamau winning with Baloz second and Occident third. It was a very fine race. The tote paid Rs. 161 for win, and Rs. 42-8, 21 and 46 for places.

BANGALORE RIFLE MEET.

FURTHER RESULTS OF COMPETITIONS.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

HEBBAL CAMP, Sept. 14.

The first week of a very successful meeting has concluded in spite of the irregularities already reported. The shooting has not been as good as in previous years, which may possibly be due to the harder conditions. The Executive Committee are to be congratulated on the smooth manner in which things have run so far, but with officers like Major C. S. Fellows, 108th Infantry, camp commandant; Capt. R. Campbell, 2nd Queen's Own Camerons Highlanders, Camp Adjutant; and Quarter-Master Capt. A. R. L. King Mahon, 108th Infantry Chief Range Officer; Capt. C. G. M. Plumer 61st. K. G. O. Pioneers, Secretary, and Major G. V. Scovell, Bangalore Rifles Vols., Statistics Officer, it would not be otherwise. They all combined tact with a very fair amount of firmness which made them very popular.

There have, however, been one or two instances where the range officers might have done better when speaking to competitors, for they have not yet learned to appreciate that those who come here are, in the majority of cases intelligent and capable men. The G. I. P. Ry. still head the list for the Championship Trophy. Capt. Edwards has kept up an excellent average, as also every other member of his team. The short rifle, with which the B. V A. and B V R. have been armed, has not been quite a success, but the men have not lost heart and are doing their level best to appear on the prize rolls.

Lt. Mawe, B V A., was unfortunate in being disqualified owing to his trigger not standing the regulation test of 5 1-2 lbs., after making 32 at 1,000 yards for the Barton Cup.

The Tie for the J H. Steward Jewel between Sergt. Major J. H. Dobson, S I R V. and Corpl. A. Williams K G F V. was shot off at 200 yards under the same conditions as the match. Dobson made 28 and Williams 31. Williams is an old stager at Hebbal, and has made many friends outside his own corps who were all pleased to see him win. He is a thorough sport and very good company in a mess tent.

The local newspaper does not appear to appreciate an outside corps winning the Dewar Challenge Shield, for, in a report.

On the match, they stated that it depended a good deal on chance. Evidently, the article was written on chance, for the G I P won very decisively and were admitted by all to be the best team. The rain is still holding off; it is in consequence stuffy and hot in the afternoon.

NASIK GOLF WEEK.

END OF A SUCCESSFUL MEETING.

McLEOD WINS THE CHALLENGE SHIELD.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

NASIK, Sept. 13.

Play for the President's Cup, and P. W. D. Cup started at 7-15 this morning when 44 players turned out The President's Cup is for the best scratch return while the P. W. D. Cup is competed for under handicap. The second couple out, Von Bock and Wurtele, both returned scores of 84 nett as did Harrison who was just behind, while his partner Kidd returned 92—7—85. Adair who played a steady round handed in 81+3—84. He was unlucky in not getting below 80, as he only got one 3 in his round, at least 3 putts stopping on the lip of the hole. F. Boyd was not playing well and handed in a scratch score of 90. Ogilvy and Pooley were both 88 nett, and the next in was Monteith, who had a somewhat lucky 81 scratch, and thus tied with England and Adair for the Silver Medal which is given for the best scratch score of the week. This was also the best score at present for the P. W. D. Cup, but Gude soon afterwards came in with 98—18—80. Montgomery played a steady round of 90, which with his handicap of 7 brought him down to 83. Inglis could not do better than 88, while his partner Roberts returned a nett 85. It was expected that England would make a good bid for the President's Cup and Silver Medal and so he did. Out in 43 he came home ... 37 in spite of a 6 at the Pipal Tree. He had to hole a putt of about 4 yards for a 5 at the 18th but made no mistake about it. His card read as follows. Out 4, 6, 6, 5, 5, 4, 5, 4, 5=43. Home 5, 3, 6, 3, 4, 4, 4, 4, 4=37 Coombs after his fine round in yesterday's Bogey Competition could do no better than a nett 88 and his partner Scotson, one of the finalists in the Captain's Cup was 2 strokes worse. Gilbert with the aid of a handicap of 16 returned another 84, while Mackay, who is rated at 16, also put in an 82. Another 84 was done by Cook, while Sanderson had an 83. Full returns are as under :—

CHALLENGE SHIELD FINAL.

ADAIR v. McLEOD.

The Finals of the Challenge Shield and Captain's Cup were played off this afternoon, a large number of spectators following the match between Adair and McLeod. Play commenced at 3-45. McLeod taking the honour. He skied his ball into the bunker while Adair got a good ball. McLeod was only just over the bunker with his second and his 3rd was short, while Adair with a good iron shot was just over the green. McLeod, however, holed a good putt for a 5 and Adair missing a short one, lost the hole in 5 to 6. He, however, got square at the second. McLeod being too strong with his third and Adair getting down in 5. He stood 1 up at the 3rd, where after being just short with his second he holed a good putt for a 4. At the 4th Adair pulled his drive and was under Port Arthur while McLeod pushed his out. He made a fine recovery with his brassie and Adair fluffed his second, but was on the green and nearer the hole than McLeod with his 3rd. However the latter holed a very fine putt for a 4 and squared the match. McLeod became 1 up at the 5th, Adair missing a short putt. At the 6th both took 3 to reach the green, and Adair won the hole in 5, McLeod missing a short putt. All square, and Adair with two very fine shots was on the green, his opponent pulling his drive and missing his second. Adair having 3 for the hole McLeod gave up, and Adair thus became 1 up. McLeod got square again at the short 8th, Adair missing his tee shot and being short with his second. McLeod got a good 4 at the 9th, Adair duffing his second, and thus was 1 up at the turn. McLeod took the 10th in a fine 4, holing a long putt, Adair having bad luck with his putt which as nearly as possible went down. The 11th was halved in 4, Adair being laid a stymie. McLeod again holed a long putt for a 3 at the Pipal Tree and was then 3 up. At the 13th Adair put a beauty on to the green and McLeod was in the bunker, the former winning in 3 to 4. McLeod took the next in 4, Adair being too strong with his 2nd and not getting dead with his 3rd, while McLeod who was to the right of the green in 2 played a beautiful pitch, which lay dead. McLeod was thus 3 up, and 4 to play, and Adair had bad luck in not winning the 15th, as his 2nd which appeared to be perfectly played was just too strong. A half in 6 resulted. At the 17th McLeod skied and was not up with his second. Adair hit a fine ball and was again unfortunate to find a very bad lie. Both were on the green in 3, Adair holing a beautiful putt for a 4 and reducing his opponent to dormy 2. At the 17th Adair was well over and to the right of the green, while McLeod found his ball in the hedge and had to lift as the rule of a stroke. The hole went to Adair in a well played 3 and he was thus dormy 1 down. Adair was rather unfortunate at the last hole, as his second found a bad lie, while McLeod was almost on the green. Adair was short with his 3rd and McLeod got down in 5 to his opponent's 6, thus winning the Challenge Shield and Gold Medal by 2 up. Adair was not playing as well as usual missing several short putts, while McLeod made very few mistakes and holed some very fine putts. It was a very good finish to the week.

CAPTAIN'S CUP FINAL.

SCOTSON v. JOHNSTON.

The former was allowing his opponent 8 strokes and won the first 3 holes but lost his advantage at the 4th. At the 5th Scotson hit a fine drive, he duffed his approach and he halved the hole in 5, Johnston being in receipt of a stroke. At the 6th Scotson over-ran the hole and was in trouble and Johnston won the hole in 5. Scotson was thus 1 up and after encountering various forms of trouble the 7th hole was eventually halved. Johnston won the 8th with the aid of a stroke in 4, and thus squared the match. However Scotson hitting a fine ball regained his lead with a 5, and was 1 up at the turn. The 10th also went to Scotson in 5, but he lost the next. Scotson however became 2 up again at the Pipal Tree with a useful 4. The 13th was won by Johnston in 3, and he square the match at the 14th in 5. Johnston became 7 up at Port Arthur for the first time during the round with a useful 5, and became dormy 2 at the 16th which he took in a fine 4. Scotson, however, played up finely and won the 17th in 5, Johnston playing for safety, and at the 18th Johnston drove out of bounds and Scotson squared the match with a good 5. He won the next in 5 to 6, the conditions being that holes had to be played by twos until one or the other became 1 up. Johnston squared at the 20th and Scotson finally won the match at the 22nd hole.

Mrs. Baker was at home at the Club after play was over, and very kindly presented the prizes to the winners.

FINAL OF THE FOURSOMES.

NASIK, Sept. 12.

The following messsge describing Friday afternoon's play was delayed in transmission and was received too late for publication in Saturday's paper :—

The final of the foursomes, which was between Adair and England and Nicholson and Watts took place this afternoon, and a considerable number of spectators assembled in anticipation of a good match. The former couple started well by winning the first two holes, England hitting a very long ball at the first, and Adair holing a good putt for a 4, while at the second, in spite of the aid of a stroke, Nicholson and Watts could not manage to secure a half, the hole being won by England and Adair in a steady 5. At the 3rd, Adair was over the green with his approach and Nicholson very short, but he holed a good putt for a win with his 4th and reduced his adversaries' lead to 1 up. At the 4th, Adair sliced his drive, but England put a beauty on to the green. Watts, however, holed a good putt for a half, Adair and England taking 5, and the other couple taking 6 but having a stroke. Both Watts and England got good tee shots at the 6th, but were to the right of the green. Nicholson was over the bank with his second, and Watts too strong with his third, Adair having played a good second. England gave his partner an easy putt, but Watts holed a long one and a half, with the aid of a stroke, resulted. The 6th was halved in an indifferent 5, and Adair and England were still 1 up, but they increased their lead to 2 up at the 7th getting a fine 4. At the 8th Nicholson and Adair were both over with their tee shots, Watts missed his approach, and Nicholson was again short. England left Adair a yard putt for the hole, but Watts laid him a half stymie and the hole was halved in 4 to 5 with the aid of a stroke. At the 9th Watts pulled his tee shot badly, and Nicholson was unfortunate in getting into the cactus hedge with his second. Adair was to the left of the green with his second, and Watts had to lift out of the hedge and play 2 more. Adair and England won the hole in 5 to 6 and turned 3 up.

They took the 10th also in 5 in spite of a badly sliced drive by Adair. At the Quarry England was to the left of the green, while Watts was too strong. Nicholson was short with his return shot, and Adair left England a 4ft. putt for a 3, which he failed to accomplish and Nicholson putting down a good putt for a 4 won the hole for his side with the aid of a stroke. However the Pipal Tree went to the scratch players, England putting an approach shot dead and Adair holing out in 3, making him and his partner 4 up and 5 to go. Adair and England became dormy at the 13th, Watts pulling his drive and Nicholson missing a shot, while the scratch couple holed out in 3. With the score at dormy 5, and the game appeared to be over, but Adair hit the trees at the 14th and his side was not on the green with their 4th, when they gave up the hole. At Port Arthur both were short with their seconds. Watts put his 3rd on to the green, but England missed his badly, and Adair left him a long putt for a five. This he got down well, but Nicholson and Watts made no mistakes and won the hole with the aid of their stroke. The 16th was also won by the handicap players in a good 4. Adair sliced his drive and England was too strong, with his second at the 17th, where Nicholson and Watts received their last stroke. The latter were too strong while England played a beautiful shot which finished just over the green. Nicholson played a good approach and was on to the green, while Adair was about 4 yards to the right of the hole. Watts putted dead but England secured the necessary half with a very fine putt for a 3. Adair and England thus won by 2 up.

CAPTAIN'S CUP.

The second match in the semi-final of the Captain's Cup between MacGeorge and Johnston was carried to the nineteenth Green, MacGeorge winning there. On a return to the club house however, it was found that Johnston had received too few strokes owing to wrong information given by his opponent and MacGeorge scratched.

FOOTBALL IN BOMBAY.

SHERWOOD FORESTERS BEAT GYMKHANA.

STRONG MILITARY TEAM.

In the Harwood League on Saturday the Bombay Gymkhana met the Sherwood Foresters "A," the game resulting in a victory for the military combination by 2 goals to love. The attendance was fair, but was a vast improvement in this respect on the last couple of games.

The play was quite bright and interesting, and was quite up to the usual standard of football in Bombay. The public are beginning to realise at last that the Harwood League games have commenced again after the cessation in these matches caused by the Rovers' Tournament. It is to be hoped that the football enthusiasts will turn up in their hundreds to encourage the teams, for there will be plenty of excitement later on, as the concluding stages of the tourney are reached. The Sherwood Foresters and their "A" team are certainties for the two first places, while the R. G. A. may obtain third place. A great deal depends, however, on the result of the game on Thursday when the Gunners meet the Bombay Gymkhana. If the latter win—and there is no reason why they should not do so—they stand an excellent chance of being placed third in the League.

Had the Gymkhana been able to place a full team in the field on Saturday they might easily have beaten the Sherwood Foresters "A." As it was a very scratch eleven performed excellently, the team was minus their clever goal-keeper, Heemskerk, their right-back Begbie, Inder in the half-back line, and Moir and Singleton in the forward line. Moir would have made a lot of difference to the attack.

The military had a strong team out, including Thornley, the clever inside right who came down from Nasik to play in the Rovers' Tournament.

THE GAME.

Play opened evenly, and both goals underwent escapes. The Gymkhana showed up well, and Evans was prominent with a good run and centred the ball which went across goal and Garbutt had to give away a corner, from which Rollo just missed the target. The Foresters broke away after this, but were pulled up, and Osborne Smith, getting possession, sent the leather right across the soldiers' goal, but no one was up to face it in the net. The Foresters settled down after this, and worried the Gymkhana backs a good deal. Mitchell got the ball at the half-way line, and beating Rollo, he put the ball forward, and paced for goal. Kilby was too far up to get back, and Simmonds, who came across, was charged off. The

ASIATIC TURKEY.

Turkey, in retaking Adrianople, while a three-cornered internecine war was proceeding among her former subjects, has recovered ground in Europe that seemed lost beyond recall. But it cannot be denied that the Asiatic provinces of the Porte, with Constantinople and a borderland round that city are, in the opinion of some at least of the great European Powers, the proper and only realm for the Sultan. It must be in contemplation of such a withdrawal or limitation that a writer in the Financial Supplement of the Times draws attention to the resources of Asiatic Turkey. If they are as described and can be developed as suggested, they are valuable in a high degree and ought to go far towards reconciling the Sultan to relinquishing sovereignty over a congeries of peoples who were not in perpetual antagonism with their ruler, but in murderous enmity against each other. To begin with, Asiatic Turkey is large enough to satisfy the demands of any potentate who values the extent of the dominion, for it is equal in size to Great Britain, France, Germany, Austria, and Hungary, and in this vast country there are twenty millions of inhabitants. It would accommodate very many more if all its wealth of soil and minerals were developed. Deserts, indeed, there are in Asiatic Turkey and huge infertile highlands, but, allowing for these as uninhabitable, it has to be admitted that the population is not commensurate with the extent of the land. Turkey, of course, dominates the whole region and in Asia Minor Turks proper are the chief part of the population, yet scattered throughout the country are agricultural and industrial communities and busy trading peoples are settled on the Ægean Coast, whence they extend their business far inland. There are 3,000 miles of railways and about three thousand miles more about to be laid—not, it is true, the outcome of Turkish energy but under French, British, and German control. Russia claims the right to build lines in Armenia, but unlike Germany has not even begun to exercise that right.

The Baghdad Railway is a proof of the enterprise and perseverance of Germany. It runs now from Haidar Pasha to Bulgurli, east of Eregli, and trains run regularly over it. The Taurus Mountains now face the engineers, but these difficult heights will not dismay them. As the thorny point of the terminus may be said to be settled, and as apparently, England, France and, Germany, have mapped out their several spheres of influence among themselves,—and, we must suppose, in consultation with Turkey over the Adrianople situation,—the line should be complete and opened in 1918. It may form a new route to India, and it will certainly tend to develope commercially and industrially the regions it runs through. Already Smyrna, Damascus, and Beirut are modern enough to have electric tramway services. Other luxuries of civilisation are sure to follow on railway extension. Anatolia is the province that responds most readily to the demands of the exploiter. It has every variety of climate from extreme heat to appalling cold, and grows fruits to correspond, from apples and cherries to dates and pomegranates. Being equally varied in formation it rewards both agriculturist and miner. The great plain, treeless though it be, has numerous wells, and when cultivated gives a plentiful return. Proofs there are of the fertility of the province in cereal produce, for England alone imported, in three years, barley worth over two and a half millions sterling. The wheat of Sivas has a great name, and is bought by the United States. Vines flourish, cotton and flax occupy 800,000 acres. Tobacco is a monopoly and will be until next year, but then its growth is sure to extend.

Asia Minor is alone in the possession of the Angora goat, the hair of which, mohair, is a valuable article of commerce. The silk-worm does his work well, and France appreciates it by taking from Turkey silk to the value of over a million and a half in the year, the greater part of this coming from the Asiatic side. No end of useful drugs, medicinal and other, are produced in Anatolia and Syria as well as coffee, rice, sugar, rare gums of many kinds, olive oil, nuts, which Germany imports in shoals. Of Turkish fruits, the United Kingdom takes over a million pounds' worth in the year and Germany half that amount. The bill of France for eggs from here is £500,000 yearly. Just as the variety in climate gives the agriculturists a handsome reward for his labour so the miner finds almost every valuable and useful mineral except tin. Coal, copper, silver, chrome, zinc, meerschaum, mercury, manganese, asphalt, rock salt, and any number of minor but still important ores are found, yet although bitumen and naphtha have been known there from ancient days, petroleum has not yet declared itself. Industry lags behind in Asiatic Turkey. Hand-woven carpets form the chief asset in that line. Sponge and pearl-fishing are to be had, but are languidly followed. When the plans of the French and English railway-builders in Syria are realised, the few industries of Anatolia and the southern provinces of Asiatic Turkey will certainly multiply, for, through Smyrna and the sea routes, the Mediterranean and the British ports will be open to them. The scheme for the irrigation of Mesopotamia, now in progress, will change the face of thousands of acres, very much for the better, of that ancient and much neglected, though marvellous province, that lies between the Euphrates and Tigris, rivers that have done wonders in centuries long gone by, and that will again perform good deeds when Sir William Willcocks has directed them aright.

THE FINANCE COMMISSION.

From the evidence published in the interim report of the Indian Finance Commission it is possible to form an idea what the report will be. Though the sittings of the Commission are not yet completed there remain but few witnesses of any weight to be examined and their views are known pretty well already. They are not likely to differ very widely from those whose opinions have already been recorded. According to the Times the evidence will satisfy most people that there has been a clear exaggeration in the criticisms of Indian Financial arrangements; but for that we must take our contemporary's word, as the long summary of testimony wired by Reuter contains no reference whatever to that particular and important matter. Much of that which has been said on the subject of the Gold Standard Reserve and its being kept in England, is transmitted, and undoubtedly the fact that most witnesses were agreed upon it justifies the assumption that report will favour views widely held in India. It is not probable that the Commission will report in favour either of the establishment of a Gold Mint or the adoption of a new gold coin; for it is generally felt that the proposals put forward some time ago would prove impracticable, and that a new coin is unnecessary while sovereigns are imported in such quantities and are so readily obtainable. The complication of the Reserves led to the expression of varying opinions and from those of which we got a mere reference it is not possible to foretell which the Commission will approve. Mr. O. T. Barrow sees no reason that they should not be amalgamated though not at present, for the Note circulation is not large enough to enable India to hold both sufficient securities and sufficient gold. "You must," said he, "have sufficient securities, plus sufficient gold to msintain the rupee standard, but you have not enough." He thought that 60 or 70 per cent. of the Paper Currency Reserve might be invested, but said that it was not wise to go so far lest public opinion were made uneasy. He agreed with Mr. Toomey, who with Mr. Fraser, represented the Exchange Banks, that it was not safe to take 1907-08 as the most severe strain India was likely to experience. The proposal to establish a State Bank does not seem to have been regarded with any amount of enthusiasm notwithstanding Mr. Montga's advocacy, though Mr. Dunbar of the Bank of Bengal said his Bank was prepared to formulate a scheme for a State Bank with a London office to conduct the sale of drafts, transfers, loans, and business of surplus balances, etc. He said such a Bank should be formed by the amalgamation of the Presidency Banks and that its capital should not exceed five millions. Doubtless the other presidency banks could formulate scheme as practicable as that, but in the summary which reaches us we find nothing to support or otherwise the statement, whose correctness we do not doubt, that opinion is not very divided; but on the whole is adverse to the project. The Commission will resume its sittings next month and probably conclude its deliberation by the end of the year, though its report cannot be expected for some considerable time after that.

ARTISTIC FINDS.

England, France, and Italy were equally fortunate during mail week in the way of the discovery of hidden art treasures. The first of those recorded was the find of a genuine Morland which had been posing as 'property" at Drury Lane Theatre. In "Sealed Orders", one of the scene is an exact replica of Christie's Auction Rooms and, Mr. Arthur Collins told a Press representative the other day, "naturally we require to show many pictures, and as I like to have everything as realistic as possible I invited a well-known art-dealer to attend a rehearsal of the drama and give us a few hints. I noticed that his attention seemed to be riveted on one canvas in particular. Chaffingly, I offered to do a deal with him, and, much to my surprise, he said, 'Very well, I'll buy that picture. I, of course, thought he was joking as we have had our 'properties' in the theatre for years and never had a thought that they might be valuable. I accepted his price on condition that the picture remained on the stage through the run of the play—in fact, I sold it to him subject to all engagements, as they say of racehorses. He agreed to this if I would allow him to take the canvas to his gallery for a few days to have it cleaned and properly restored; and to-day he announces to me that his suspicions have been confirmed, and that the picture is genuine and a very fine example of the work of George Morland, and is worth a considerable amount of money." The French discovery was at the Calais Museum. While the lumber-room was being cleaned out a magnificent portrait of an old man beneath which were the words "Fecit Rembrandt, Anno 1653." How such a picture could ever have been consigned to the lumber-room of the museum and left there for so many years is a difficult problem to unravel. A photograph of the picture plainly shows beneath the last coating of paint four other signatures, "Fecit Rembrandt 1646," indicating, it is held, that this canvas had been first used by the master for trying his signature before appending it to other works. Its genuineness is not yet acknowledged in artistic circles, it being argued that the Museum authorities would not have consigned to the lumber-room anything but a certain imitation. Egnatia, the ancient town referred to by Horace as Gnatia, on the road to Brindisium, was the Italian scene of discoveries. The town has now been completely excavated and the theatre, temples of Jupiter, Juno, and Minerva, several palaces and villas, the acropolis, and the port have been discovered, and the archæological material possesses considerable artistic value. A fine statue of Jupiter, another of Venus and many others, all by Greek sculptors, were found. Excavations in the necropolis of the Etruscan town of Veium, have also provided interesting results. In the tombs of wealthy families were discovered golden collars and many other articles in gold and silver, with vases and sculptures.

CANCER AND COAL SMOKE.

Cancer is probably the most obscure disease at the present day, and many theories regarding it have been formed and discarded. We need not, therefore, too readily accept the latest opinion on the subject although, should it be a true one, it will cause serious misgivings to a great many good people, especially those who dwell in big industrial cities with their constant pall of black smoke. This new theory, in brief, finds a connection between cancer and the use of coal as fuel, and a striking point in regard to it is that the date, on which it is based, were not taken from cities, where the smoke-clouds are dense but from lonely country districts where pure fresh air is plentiful. Observation has been made, in fact, in Nairnshire and the Orkneys, but when we are considering the density of the smoke-clouds which are encountered, we should not forget to consider the effect of badly ventilated cottages with ill-constructed chimneys. In these parts of the Highlands there are well-defined districts in which material for fuel is confined either to coal or peat, and it has been found that with few exceptions the districts which use coal have shown a lower death-rate from cancer, than those which use peat. In the district of Nairnshire, where peat is burned, there was only one death from cancer during a period of ten years. The subject has been elaborated by Mr. C. E. Green F. R. S. E. in two communications to the Edinburgh Medical Journal, and his researches seem to indicate that there is a direct relationship between the sulphur contents of the fuel consumed and the mortality from cancer. He attributes the ill-effects to the action of sulphur-dioxide formed in the process of combustion, and makes an analogy between this and the formations of tumours on the roots of plants owing to the use of vitriolated manures. Whether sulphur be the true agent or not, we here have one more piece of evidence tending to connect the incidence of malignant disease with the action of chemical irritants.

UNSETTLING INFLUENCES ON STUDENTS.

The Government of India's letter to the Senate of the Calcutta University in connection with the controversy which has been waged over the banning of three lecturers is worthy of note for its clear and impressive arguments. The letter states that Government are bound in duty to prevent by every means in their power the exertion of unsettling influences upon the student community. They "cannot ignore the mischief which has already been wrought among the pupils of certain schools and colleges in Bengal." In that reply lies the crux of the question, and loyal and temperate opinion will voice the wisdom of it. Quite apart from the injudiciousness of allowing education in this country to become tinged by politics and acute differences, which have to be faced soon enough by the young students, it is unfair and unscrupulous to use a force to influence him which should have for its object the very opposite effect. The aim of education is to broaden the outlook, not to narrow it down; and the principle emphasised in Government's letter is one which should be generally applied. It is the duty of Indian educational institutions to combat unsettling influences, not to foster them, for there is a higher purpose before the youth of India to-day than to be engaged in strifes and differences which have backward and prejudicial tendencies.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS.

THE PALACE OF PEACE.

BAGHDAD RAILWAY.

GERMANY AND PANAMA.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

PARIS, Aug. 30.

The formal inauguration took place at the Hague on Thursday, of the new Palace of Peace, which, as the result of a gift of £300,000 made ten years ago by Mr. Andrew Carnegie "for the purpose of building, establishing, and maintaining in perpetuity at The Hague a Court House and Library (Temple of Peace) for the Permanent Court of Arbitration," has been built in grounds some sixteen acres in extent between The Hague and Scheveningen. The weather was brilliantly fine, and the streets, gay with decorations for the occasion of the fetes held in commemoration of the centenary of national independence presented a scene full of colour and life. Large crowds proceeded to the Palace of Peace, where Queen Wilhelmina, the Queen Mother, and the Prince Consort, arrived about a quarter past two. Shortly afterwards Mr. and Mrs. Carnegie were presented to the Queen.

Jonkheer van Karnebeek, the President of the Carnegie Foundation, then formally handed over the palace to the Administrative Council of the Arbitration Court. In his address, after thanking Queen Wilhelmina, the Queen Mother, and Prince Henry of the Netherlands for their presence, he said the permanent Court of Arbitration constituted a remarkable application of the principle of justice by means of international arbitration. The speaker proceeded to eulogise the "Apostle of Peace" who had presented to the Netherlands £300,000 for an edifice worthy of its object. Addressing Mr. Carnegie in English, M. van Karnebeek said:—"You stand as it were before the whole civilised world, before the 42 States affiliated to the Permanent Court of Arbitration, before the Sovereign of the country that became the seat of this world-institution. Coupled with the Court of Arbitration your name will pass to posterity as the founder of the Temple of Peace." M. van Karnebeek then presented to the President of the Administrative Council a small case containing a key which the German Government had had made for the large entrance gate. Proceeding with his speech, he said not only would the palace be the office in which they would work to secure supremacy of peace by law, but it would also appeal to the imagination and constitute a rallying point for all those who believed in the progress of humanity towards that ideal of civilisation where there would be no more war between peoples. It was in that sense that the palace would be a Temple of Peace, where, even when the clouds of war appeared on the horizon, better aspirations would find a refuge and be able, like the doves in the ark, to resume their flight after the tempest. M. de Marees van Swinderen, President of the Permanent Court of Arbitration and Minister for Foreign Affairs, speaking in the name of the Administrative Council of the Court, expressed delight at the possession of so imposing an edifice. Continuing, in French, the speaker accepted in the name of the Administrative Council of the Arbitration Court, the key symbolising the transfer of the edifice to which it gives access. Would this edifice, which the voice of the people had named the "Palace of Peace," live up to its lofty title, ? Emphatically no! if it were taken to imply that its bell would shortly call them to the inauguration of "Eternal Peace"—two words which were only in place when inscribed on the entrance-gate of a cemetery. Emphatically yes! if they took care not to allow their imaginations to take flight beyond what was humanly possible of realisation. That reservation, said M. van Swinderen, impited nothing calculated to dishearten them in the task to be accomplished in the Palace, which was destined to become a fruitful laboratory, producing and spreading all over the world ideas and formulæ for the guidance of nations in their mutual relations. Here would be framed just awards for the well-being of civilisation. Nevertheless, conventions between peoples required a basis of good will. All controversies could be settled from the moment that the two contending parties desired a settlement, while, on the other hand, any insignificant dispute might lead to a war. At all events, diplomacy could hail the inauguration of that temple with hearts full of hope. During the ceremony Mr. Cargenie was decorated with the Grand Cross of the Order of Orange-Nassau.

BAGHDAD RAILWAY FINANCE.

The place of honour was given on Wednesday in all the Paris newspapers to the arrangements between France, Germany, and Turkey, concerning the railways in Asia Minor. The "Temps" gives a tolerably complete history of the long and complicated transactions between the various countries concerned as regards the Baghdad Railway. Ever since the Ottoman Bank representing semi-officially French interests took over a third of the shares against the official wish of the Government, which therefore refused a quotation on the Paris Bourse, the situation had become anomalous. Although it declined to allow quotation, the French Government opposed retrocession on the grounds that the possession of the holding might some day be useful. Over and over again negotiations were undertaken and failed, and the German position grew stronger and stronger till the hope dawned that the Deutche Bank might eventually be strong enough to do without foreign capital. In 1909 England and France sought means of putting some sort of pressure on Germany, and after long deliberation it was decided to demand the concession of a line from the Mediterranean to the Persian Gulf, via Tripoli, Homs, Baghdad, and Basra. During 1910 a complete agreement was arrived at between English and French, financiers, but both the respective Ambassadors declared that it would be impossible to obtain such a concession. Whilst English and French diplomacy were thus fettering finance, Russia, Germany, and Turkey, took advantage to conclude their agreements, and in 1911 the Franco-German crises diverted all attention from this object. It then became too late for the scheme ever to materialise.

Last month came the Anglo-German agreement, giving Germany a free hand up to the Shat-el-Arab, and consequently all that France could hope for was a satisfactory liquidation or an abandonment. Either the shares held must be utilised by being admitted to quotation or they must be given back. After England and Russia had cleared out, it was palpably futile for France to keep a minority of shares which would give her no effective control over the working of the line. The "Temps" concludes its article:—"Germany thus will have succeeded in making the Baghdad Railway exclusively her own business. She will gain political influence and economic advantages, but she will not be able to use it as an instrument for domination. Germany could only appropriate the country traversed by the railway after being victorious in a general war. The Syrian and Armenian lines, where we get no German competition, may bring very real benefits, which will be all the more appreciable since we shall be more prudent in the future than in the past. The arrangement, which can only become definitive after the agreement of England and Russia, and of all the three Powers with Turkey, may carry profits and compensation in certain measure for those who let slip in the Baghdad line by not taking up a position in Constantinople which was ours by reason of our political influence and financial role." It may be observed that up to the present very little information has been given beyond the broad principles of the agreement as above sketched. Javid Bey has been engaged for two months in discussing railway concessions in Syria, but up to the present it is not known in what direction. It seems to be admitted that so far as Turkey is concerned these questions had been satisfactorily settled, and it then became necessary to obtain German consent. The terms of the German agreement seem simply the retrocession of the shares and the abandonment of all German claims on concessions in Syria and Armenia, but there is probably some other consideration, as up to the present Germany always sought outside capital, and it is hardly likely that she would consider the unloading upon the Deutsche Bank of the Ottoman Bank's holdings as a special favour deserving a return.

No doubt the whole of French and English financial and railway policy in Turkey has been lamentably mismanaged hitherto, owing principally to the want of diplomatic cohesion and support, and considerable hopes are raised in Paris that these mistakes will never be repeated, and that something like the old French influence in Syria may be re-established by the new railway schemes which have yet to be divulged.

NEW FRENCH ARMY LAW.

When the new French Army Law came before the Chamber and the question of enrolling recruits at the age of 20 was discussed, adversaries of the Bill declared that it would lead to an enormous number of rejections owing to physical unfitness, and that when the time came scenes of violent protest against the new system might be expected. On Thursday morning there was afforded a striking refutation of all these evil prophecies when recruiting began in the First Arrondissement. Far from complaining all the young men have come gaily and voluntarily forward and have so facilitated the task of the Government that it has been able in the 20 days since the law was passed, to complete the rolls, a task generally requiring three months. Already 310,000 conscripts have registered, 25,000 for Pairs, necessitating the compilation of no fewer than 13 million different papers. In front of the Mairie, there was great animation at an early hour this morning, sellers of cockades and ribbons driving a lively trade with a noisy band of the future defenders of the Fatherland. Altogether 295 presented themselves, eager and ready to start their military training a year earlier. In view of their evident anxiety to serve, the physical examiners were extra careful not to pass any that were unfit. It is true that the majority were somewhat pale-faced, but they stripped well and showed nervous muscular frames. Out of the total only six were rejected for bodily or hereditary defects, and 29 were put back as being not sufficiently developed. The result is a pleasing surprise, especially to the doctors themselves, who, in an arrondissement where the inhabitants are mainly employed in sedentary occupations, hardly expected such a small percentage of failures. A much larger proportion of failures is often observed at the age of 21. One of the doctors said:—"The average chest measurement was satisfactory, being between 30 and 32 inches, and the height about the same as the average at the age of 21. Considering the recruits are at an age when great development may still be looked forward to, I can safely say that within a few months they will turn out good men and soldiers. Probably the other quarters of Paris, where the youths are engaged in trades calling for the exercise of more physical force, will give at least as good results and the whole batch will come up to to-day's satisfactory sample." In reality the beginning of the essentially healthy soldier's life a year earlier will certainly improve the physique of the army and the nation generally.

GERMAN EXHIBIT FOR SAN FRANCISCO.

The spread of the movement in favour of Germany taking part in the Panama Canal Exhibition at San Francisco and the strong position in support of the movement that has been taken up by Herr Heinicken, the chief director of the North German Lloyd Steamship Company, have persuaded those who are opposed to the venture to explain their views. The arguments that they have to produce are published at considerable length in the "Berliner Zeitung." Their gist is that the Government having rightly or wrongly refused to take part, it is now too late for private enterprise in any shape or form to aspire to replace what would otherwise have been a truly national exhibit. The result of any such attempt could only be a half-success, which Germany might well do without. Some of the points made are worth fuller mention. The "Berliner Zeitung" discusses Herr Ballin's rather ambitious promise to replace the Government himself. It says that an exhibit of his shipping company would be a good exhibit and a profitable one, but that on account of agreements with American firms the great electrical concern with which he would otherwise have the fullest influence is absolutely debarred from selling in the United States, and therefore has scarcely any incentive to exhibit. As for the

STATE BANK FOR INDIA.

GOVERNMENT OFFICIAL'S OPINIONS.

A SCHEME OUTLINED.

THE FINANCE COMMISSION'S INTERIM REPORT.

FURTHER EVIDENCE.

LONDON, Sept. 13.

One of the most important papers among the appendices to Mr. Lionel Abrahams' Memorandum on the subject of a State Bank, which, as mentioned by Mr. Montagu in his Budget speech, was prepared for submission to the Royal Commission, says, in surveying the previous discussions from 1867 onwards, that there has been a marked sequence as to the duties which should be entrusted to the bank and the advantages to be derived therefrom. His scheme would assign to the bank a much larger holding of Government of India balances than are at present in the Presidency Banks, the management of the paper currency, and participation in the sale of drafts on India for meeting the Secretary of State's requirements, as it would not accept an unlimited obligation to sell bills on London at a fixed rate in order to support the exchange.

The management of the Gold Standard Reserve should remain with the Government of India, though as a matter of convenience, the carrying out of the particular transactions relating thereto should be entrusted to the bank. It should not receive deposits in London and should not have a preferential position as to coinage. The protection of the Government of India's interests should be through the Government of India directors, whose presence would give confidence to the public and would not hinder the bank from the conduct of efficient business. The London office of the bank should include a representative of the Secretary of State with a position corresponding to that of the Government Director of guaranteed and other Indian railway companies. Although he had an absolute veto at his discretion over the act of the Board, the system had worked with remarkable smoothness.

NO EFFECT ON GOLD CIRCULATION.

Mr. Abrahams does not believe that any important economies would be effected by the reduction of the Government of India's establishment, or by increase in the popularity of paper currency or the efficiency of its management, or that the bank would have any effect on import and export or on the circulation of gold. Its capital would be on the rupee basis, and the Government of India would participate in the profits. Amalgamation of the three Presidency banks, with headquarters, presumably at Calcutta, would involve the danger of disadvantageous effects on the status and efficiency of those of Bombay and Madras, but the Presidency Banks possibly may regard such a danger as too remote to constitute a serious obstacle to the scheme which appears to hold out some prospect of advantage to the Indian commercial public as a whole.—Reuter.

THE GOLD AND PAPER RESERVES.

VIEWS OF EXPERTS.

LONDON, Sept. 12.

Further evidence contained in the interim report of the Chamberlain Commission is as follows.

Mr. Abrahams said the minting of a ten-rupee piece would be much cheaper than the minting of a sovereign, but the demand was more sentimental than practical. India had a gold currency at present. The Government encouraged its use, but the people preferred other forms of money.

Mr. Abrahams further said that the suggestion that the affairs of the India Office and the Indian Empire were conducted in the interests of the London money market was not only contrary to fact but conveyed a most harmful impression.

Mr. Alfred Clayton Cole, ex-Governor of the Bank of England, expressed himself as strongly in favour of the holding of the Gold Standard Reserve in England, stating emphatically that he was looking at the matter purely from the Indian standpoint. There ought to be ten millions in actual gold unless the Government of Indian in an emergency were able to use gold in the Currency Reserve. Then perhaps five millions might be sufficient. He condemned lending at par on Indian securities quoted below par. He did not think that India borrowed too much but the time was coming when India and Britain alike would have to issue loans with a fixed date of redemption.

NEED FOR PAPER CIRCULATION.

Mr. Oscar Barrow, formerly Accountant-General, Bombay, and Auditor-General, Calcutta, said it would be dangerous to lend much out of the Treasury balances except during a small portion of the year; but he favoured the amending of the law so as to enable lending from the Paper Currency Reserve. He strongly urged the advantage of getting paper into circulation. Really, a Gold Standard Reserve was not needed, but we must have a Paper Currency Reserve.

Replying to the question whether it was not simpler to combine both Reserves he said they could be amalgamated, but that it was at present impossible because the note circulation was not big enough to enable us to hold both sufficient securities and sufficient gold.

"You must have sufficient securities plus sufficient gold to maintain the rupee standard; if you have not got enough." He thought that 60 per cent. or 70 per cent. of the Paper Currency Reserve might be invested, but said it was not wise to go so far lest public opinion were made uneasy. He agreed with Mr. Toomey that it was not safe to take 1907-08 as the severest strain India was likely to experience.

"TIMES'" SUMMING UP.

Summing up the general results of the evidence before the Chamberlain Commission, the Times says they will satisfy most people that there has been clear exaggeration in the criticism of Indian financial arrangements. One question seems to be definitely settled by the weight of evidence; almost everybody except Mr. M. de P. Webb being in favour of keeping the gold standard reserve in London.

The evidence however showed that there was growing dissatisfaction with the complication of the existing Reserves, and that if consolidation were possible the currency system would be much simplified.

The views of the Commission thereon will be awaited with much interest. Opinion as to the desirability of a State Bank is not very divided, but is, on the whole, adverse to the project.

The Paris diamond broker, Quadratstein, who assisted the police in the hunt for the famous necklace, gave some dramatic evidence this afternoon. FAR-REACHING DEVELOPMENTS PROBABLE.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT)

ALLAHABAD, Sept. 13.

The Pioneer's London correspondent cables:—The Daily Telegraph's Tokio correspondent wires that the anti-Chinese agitation will have certain far-reaching developments, irrespective of whether China satisfies the Japanese official demands or not. Public opinion in Japan is determined to terminate the attitude which, it is believed, the Chinese still maintains in the impression that Japan is regarded by the European Powers as unworthy of serious consideration. This is the real secret of the prolonged outburst which is supported by the Army and in certain influential quarters. The correspondent believes that though China will accept all the Japanese demands, which, she understands, include a fifty years' extension of the lease of Port Arthur, some incident will infallibly occur allowing the carrying out of the expansionist programme, the first steps in which are the military occupation of Foochow and Amoy.

It is believed, in well informed circles, including European experts, that a crisis must occur in Chinese finance before the end of the year, which will lead to foreign intervention.

Nothing is known so far regarding the report in Chinese papers as to the head of the Englishman said to have been brought into Wei hsi-ti. It is stated that the head was in the possession of local tribesmen so far back as April.

He estimated that by 1940, the annual consumption would be from thirty million to thirty-five million bales.

A great impetus, he said, would be given to other productions by an invention of a mechanical apparatus for cotton picking. He suggested that the Government, or some other interested body, should offer a reward for such an invention.—Reuter.

"A LIBERAL FLAG OF DISTRESS."

ULSTER LEADERS' CRITICISMS.

THE EXERCISE OF ROYAL PREROGATIVE.

LONDON, Sept. 14.

Sir Edward Carson, speaking at Durham to-day, said, in reply to Lord Loreburn's letter, that the letter left the question of Home Rule different from what it had been before, and Sir Edward Carson asked what had now become of the Government's mandate. It would doubtless be paraded to the bitter end, but it was only a dressed-up corpse. It was something that serious men were beginning to realise the gravity of the situation, but even Lord Loreburn did not realise the whole gravity. There were not going to be spasmodic riots if the Government persisted in the Bill.

"We shall make Government by Home Rule impossible by steady, persistent opposition to its every Act. We will never acknowledge ourselves citizens of a Parliament in Dublin. We will ever acknowledge the power of the Imperial Parliament under the King. Let those who can, take that from us. The very fact of Lord Loreburn making the proposal shows that Lord Loreburn does not grasp the rudiments of the question; he does not see the gulf between Mr. Redmond and myself. Until you can reconcile our fundamentally different views it is not of the slightest use pretending to meet in a conference which must prove abortive."

POSITION OF THE KING.

Referring to the discussions regarding the position of the King, Sir Edward Carson refused to express his views, because there was no tribunal to settle the question. But it was the duty of the Premier to advise the King to appeal to the people.

In conclusion, Sir Edward Carson said he would return to Ulster this week and would joyfully and eargerly have a provisional government ready to take over in trust for the Empire and the King, "such parts of the Government as would protect us from a Home Rule parliament."—Reuter

A NEW ASPECT OF THE QUESTION.

Mr. Ellis Griffith, speaking at Abernethy, said that Lord Loreburn's letter had raised a new aspect of the Home Rule question. Liberals and Nationalists had never been unwilling to confer with their opponents, with a view to some measure of Home Rule by consent, but it was impossible to enter the conference unless there was a common basis for discussion. Every member of the conference must agree regarding three premises. Firstly, that there must be a change of Government in Ireland; secondly, that the change must place a greater share of the government in the hands of Irishmen; and thirdly, that there must be a parliament, or assembly, or council representing the views of Ireland as a whole.—Reuter.

FLUCTUATING OPINIONS.

LONDON, Sept. 12.

Opinions with regard to Lord Loreburn's proposed conference appear to fluctuate hourly.

The evening papers assume a hopeful aspect and characterise the comments of the morning papers as a mass of confused reading. They declare that everywhere there is an air of caution and reserve, but that nowhere is aversion to a settlement of the Home Rule Bill question by consent so violent as to be insuperable.

The Westminster Gazette is again conciliatory in tone, and admits that the appeal for the conference comes from a Liberal quarter, but it says it is equally true that the Unionists would gain much by such a settlement.

AN ALTERNATIVE PLAN.

Meanwhile considerable excitement has been created in Ireland. The Nationalists admit that the proposal is gravely disconcerting, while the Ulsterites say it is a Liberal flag of distress.

The Liberal weekly journal Nation describes Lord Loreburn's appeal as a momentous one. The journal favours a settlement by consent.

AN ALTERNATIVE PLAN.

Earl Grey, in a letter to the Times, agrees with Lord Loreburn that the interests of Britain demand a joint effort by both parties to secure the reconsideration of the ill-conceived measure, possible passage of which Lord Grey believes even Ministers regard with the gravest apprehension. Lord Grey adds that the application of the Federal principle to the United Kingdom offers an alternative plan which could be safely accepted by all parties.—Reuter,

[The story of Hon. Mr. Grant, of the Chinese Telegraph Service, who was killed in Mongolia because he refused to leave his three servants, has already been told fully in the Bombay Gazette. While on a tour of inspection, he was captured by Mongols, who decided to kill the Chinese but gave Mr. Grant the opportunity of going away unharmed. He could not save his servants, but with a heroic sense of devotion and personal responsibility, he decided to stay with his men, a course which, as he had been informed, meant that he also would be shot. According to Mongol accounts, Mr. Grant, as he stood up for execution, taunted the Mongols with cowardice, and "laughed in their faces till they wondered at his bravery."]

THE TRAIN TRAGEDY.

HOW SUSPICION FELL ON THE PRISONER.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

ALLAHABAD, Sept. 13.

The Pioneer gives the following pricise facts regarding the recent train tragedy.

Miss Murphy left Gorakhpur on the evening of the 3rd instant for Lucknow by the train which started at 6-40 p.m. She travelled in the rear compartment of a bogie 1st and 2nd class carriage, there being no other passenger in the bogie. She is said to have been seen alive at Gaur Station, and on reaching Babut, the next station, was found lying dead with her throat cut on the transverse berth of the compartment. Between the two stations is a run of only fifteen minutes. Guard Roberts, who discovered the body, noticed that only one window was open; all the others were shut and the electric light was burning. The body was taken on to Gonda, accompanied by police, and on arrival, the District Traffic Superintendent took charge of it, locking the carriage until the arrival of the magistrate. Meanwhile the police on searching the train at Gonda discovered a parcel of clothing—indentified as belonging to the deceased—a kukri and a small child's shoe in the 3rd class compartment, two carriages in rear of the bogie carriage.

While at Gonda a constable of the Government Railway Police noticed the man Sakhu, who came up to him and asked where he could get some cigarettes. The passenger train from Gon a reaches Basti at 6 a.m. When this train came in on the morning of 4th it was surrounded by people anxious to hear the story of the murder, of which the news had already arrived. The same constable there saw Sakhu again, and thinking this strange watched him, became suspicious, and arrested him.

On searching him, a silver bangle that had been cut into four pieces was found in his dhoti. This has been identified by Mr. Lyons, uncle of the deceased, as having belonged to Miss Murphy. Mr. Lyons also identified the property found in the 3rd class compartment. Some more clothing had been thrown on to the line and was picked up afterwards together with a striped chintz kurta, which had been identified as being Sukhu's by his father.

The carriage in which Miss Murphy was travelling was not one with a continuous foot-board. The medical evidence showed that there had been no outrage.

It is said that the police have reasons for suspecting the sanity of the prisoner Sukhu. The crime has the appearance of having been due to homicidal instincts brought into activity by the sight of a lonely and defenceless victim.

A STARTLING VIEW.

EUROPEAN WRITES ON BENGALI GRIT.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

CALCUTTA, Sept. 13.

Referring to the new spirit of enterprise and adventure amongst the Bengalee students, which was evidenced during the recent floods, a European gentleman writes: "Obviously the European must be greatly affected by coming changes. He is here, not because he is superior to the Indian in brain, but because he has grit and character. If the new generation of Indians also display grit and character, what excuse will there be for bringing out Europeans to govern the country and control industrial enterprise. However I do not wish to labour what may seem a very selfish view. If the Bengalees turn out better men than we are, so much the worse for us."

The Englishman, which published the above letter, describes it as a startling view.

Commenting on it the Bengalee says: "Our young men work, we can say by way of reassuring the writer, without any eye to the fruit, but if nothing can stand between character and its due as the writer seems to apprehend, his concern, we are afraid, will not stay young Bengal from its course of self-improvement."

A Bill for the further protection of minor girls, which was the outcome of the discussion regarding the measure introduced by Mr. Dadabhoy, will be introduced into the Council at Simla on Sept. 17.

TEACHING AND POLITICS.

THE MISCHIEF OF ILL-INFLUENCES.

GOVERNMENT'S REPLY TO THE CALCUTTA SENATE.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

CALCUTTA, Sept. 13.

The Government of India's letter to the Registrar of the Calcutta University, in reply to the latter's letter in connection with the question of the appointment of three university lecturers, has been published. After dealing with the points raised by the Calcutta University, Mr. Sharp, Secretary to the Government of India, Education Department, says:—

"It is stated that the principle that persons who have taken a prominent part in politics should not be made lecturers is now applied for the first time, that Dr. Suhrawardy had previously been appointed and no exception had been taken to his appointment, that it was inappropriate to negative the recommendations of the University on a new principle, that the principle itself is too comprehensive, and that the order will seriously hamper the action of the University in the appointment of lecturers. I am to observe that the principle is not a new one. It has long been applied to Government servants. It was enunciated in eloquent language and with the widest application to teachers and professors by the Hon'ble the Vice-Chancellor in his Convocation speech of 1910. For reasons already stated it would have been embarrasing to the University had the Government of India taken any action antecedent to that to which the University object. The Senate admit that it would be a disqualification in a lecturer, if the part taken by him in politics were improper, or the movement itself objectionable, but are not prepared to admit this in the case of one who may take an honourable part in an unojectionable movement.

"They allege that the literal application of the principle formulated would lead to the position that a University lecturer cannot be permitted even in times of exceptional ferment and excitement to make strenuous efforts to keep the rising generation of young men on the side of authority, order, and discipline. I am to observe that this conclusion would not appear to follow from the attitude adopted in the speech made by the Hon'ble the Vice-Chancellor in 1910. The exercise of a wholesome political influence upon students is not synonymous with the taking of a prominent part in politics and in cases of which it would always be open to the Senate to make their recommendations with the statement of their reasons for considering that the part taken by any person recommended had not been objectionable, or such as to render him unduly prominent.

"As for the minor matter of the previous appointment of Mr. Suhrawardy, I am to say that since the orders of 1909 and 1911 were passed certain new facts have been brought to the notice of the Government of India. The Government of India are not prepared to accept the statement that at the age of 21 and after having passed a degree a young man necessarily becomes immune from political influences, whether these are intruded into lectures or whether they are merely embodied in the person of the lecturer.

"In conclusion I am to remark that the propriety of refusing to sanction the appointment of the lecturers in question is touched on only from the points of view of abstract principle and of the academic qualifications of the gentlemen concerned. It does not appear that any members of the Senate, or the senate collectively, have otherwise questioned the desirability of the orders which, after the most careful consideration and with much regret, the Government of India felt themselves compelled to issue in the interest of the student community. The Government of India are bound in duty to prevent by every means in their power the exertion of unsettling influences upon the student community. They cannot ignore the mischief which has already been wrought among the pupils of certain schools and colleges in Bengal. They are anxious to co-operate with the Senate of the Calcutta University in the interest of the students and of the higher intellectual life of Bengal and they therefore refrain from further comment on your letter and the debate of July 5. They are hopeful that the Calcutta University will not find real difficulty in carrying out the principle laid down and that with further assistance from the Government of India they will be able to advance the ideals of higher teaching which they, no less than the Government of India, have set before themselves."

CAWNPORE RIOT CASES.

QUESTION OF BAIL FOR THE ACCUSED.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

ALLAHABAD, Sept. 14.

At the Allahabad High Court to-day before Mr. Justice Ryves, Mr. Dillon with others presented applications for bail on behalf of the accused in the Cawnpore mosque riot cases.

Mr. Dillon drew the attention of the court to the provisions of Section 498, Criminal Procedure Code, which gave special power to the High Court to admit persons to bail in any case, and in support cited two cases where accused charged with murder were admitted on bail. Council submitted that the evidence for the prosecution was of very general kind.

Mr. Dillon added that the change under Section 333 I. P. C. was of a technical nature. The counsel for the prosecution in the lower court offered to give up that change and to go on with the case under Section 147 I. P. C. in which circumstance the accused could claim bail as a matter of right, but the counsel for the defence would not give the assurance wanted by Mr. Boys.

Mr. Justice Ryves: Of course, not.

Mr. Dillon said he could not understand why the prosecution were opposing the application. The witnesses were mainly officials and persons who could not possibly be tempered with nor were the accused likely to abscond.

Mr. Justice Ryves: You must satisfy me that there is a strong probability of acquittal.

Mr. Dillon replied that the evidence was all one way and they could not go into that now. Would his lordship without prejudging the case allow bail? It was a very exceptional kind of case, where the accused showed, perhaps, mistaken religious zeal, and his lordship ought to regard the attitude of the prosecution in the court below.

His lordship remarked that no court could be in any way bound by what the prosecutor saids.

Mr. Boys said that he was expecting definite and further instructions as regards these bail applications, and after some further discussion, at the suggestion of his lordship, it was decided to withdraw the applications and present them again on Monday, when Mr. Boys would be fully prepared as to his instructions.

MINING ASSOCIATION.

WITHDRAWAL OF MESSRS YULE'S COMPANIES.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

CALCUTTA, Sept. 13.

Messrs A. Yule and Co. have withdrawn all the colliery companies, of which they are managing agents, from the Indian Mining Association. They appealed to the Association for assistance in obtaining sufficient wagons to supply contracts for the South Indian Railway from Canal Colliery. The committee of the Mining Association held that they could give no assistance, since Messrs A. Yule should not have accepted a contract for more than the known wagon allotment to the colliery. Messrs. A Yule replied that their allotment was inadequate. Also that shipments are possible only at certain seasons of the year. The Committee replied that it could not alter its decision in justice to the other companies.

Messrs Yule then sent the resignation of the Bengal Coal Co., the Bengal-Giridih, the Bengal-Bhatdee, the Khatras-Jheria and the Bengal-Nagpore companies.

INDIANS IN SOUTH AFRICA.

The following is the further reply received by the Council of the Bombay Presidency Association from the Secretary of State for India to the communication submitted by them regarding the South African Immigration Act. The letter is addressed to Sir Pherozeshah Mehta:—

"In continuation of my letter No. 5518-5519-15, dated the 14th July, 1913, I am directed to say that the Secretary of State for India has requested the Government of India to inform you that questions connected with the South African Immigration Act are engaging his most careful consideration in Council."

The statue of Sir Alexander Taylor, which is to be erected at Delhi, is now nearly finished, says the Pioneer and should be ready for shipment to India early next year. The estimated cost, now pretty accurately known, is nearly £1,000, and towards this £700 has been collected or promised. We regret to state, however, that the subscriptions from India already sent in amount to only £42 and this in spite of a circular letter sent to all units in the army, to many civil officers and to public associations. Sir Alexander Taylor's name may not be well known to the present generation who have yet unfailing admiration for the work done by the men who captured Delhi in 1857, but they may rest assured that Lord Roberts and the other ditinguished officers on the Statue Committee would not have started the proposal had they not been convinced that the services of Taylor were of such vital importance to the Empire that they should be kept alive in the knowledge of all at Delhi itself by a memorial suitable to the spot and the man. The fund must be raised to £1,000 within the next few weeks as otherwise petty economies will have to be exercised with the result of possibly spoiling the memorial as a whole. Subscriptions can be sent to Messrs. Cox and Company, Bombay, and we hope that they will be forthcoming at once.

LAW INTELLIGENCE.

HIGH COURT.

CRIMINAL SESSIONS.

THEFT OF JEWELLERY.

The tenth day's sitting of the Fourth Criminal Sessions of the Bombay High Court was held on Saturday, Mr. Justice Davar presiding.

John Reginald Dias, an Indian Christian, aged 32, was committed for trial on charges of house-breaking by night and theft in a building

Mr. B. V. Mehta prosecuted, and the accused was undefended.

It appeared that the accused was a resident of Goa, and he used to come occasionally to Bombay. At first he had no means, but later on he seemed to be very rich and he presented some or naments to a woman and her boy. He also sold ornaments to marwaris and to a compounder, named Pascal, in the employ of Miss Hirabai Ardesher, contractor. The latter questioned Pascal about those articles, but as he failed to give any satisfactory reply she reported the matter to the police. Pascal then absconded from Bombay. The police made enquiries, and it was found that the accused had stolen on the night of June. 23. last a gold watch and chain, some silver and gold coins, etc, of the total value of Rs. 584, belonging to Mr. Nowroji Jeswanji Gazdar, residing in Wodehouse-road.

The evidence for the prosecution was then led, and the jury having returned a unanimous verdict of guilty, the Court sentenced the accused to seven years' rigorous imprisonment.

MANY ALLIASES.

Maneckji Ruttonji Mistry, alias Jamshedji Maneckji, alias Maneckji Jehangir, alias Cursetji Hormusji, a Parsee, aged 35, came up for trial before his lordship and a common jury on a charge of theft in a building.

Mr. Chatfield appeared for the crown, and the accused was undefended.

Evidence showed that on July 31, the man went to a shop in Gilder street and asked for a change from one Utamram Atmaram. Utamram's coat was hanging on a nail and the accused took out a purse containing a sum of Rs. 100, and then tried to rum away. He was arrested, however, and handed over to the police.

The jury having returned a verdict of guilty, the accused was sentenced to a term of five years' rigorous imprisonment.

FALSIFICATION OF ACCOUNTS.

The first case which was dealt with by his lordship and a common jury was that in which a Hindu munim, named Sukhlal Hemchand, aged 28, was committed for trial by Mr. A. H. S. Aston, Chief Presidency Magistrate, charged with falsification of accounts, and with substituting a blank page in an account book for a page containing entries.

Mr. Kolah appeared for the prosecution while Mr. Velinker defended.

It was stated that the accused was in the employ of one Purshotam Madon, who carried on business as commission agent at the Mangaldas Market. The accused had been with him for a number of years.

He was paid Rs 30 a month. When the complainant received certain information in April last he looked into his accounts. It was then found that an entry of Rs. 390 had been altered into Rs. 433-4 and another entry of Rs. 77-9-6 had been altered into Rs, 120-13-6. The debit side had been also altered from Rs. 579-8 into Rs. 622-12. A page of a certain book called "Hathi Vai" had been torn out and a blank page had been substituted. A complaint was then lodged with the police and the accused was arrested. It was stated that the accused was undergoing a sentence of four month's rigorous imprisonment for misappropriation of money.

After recording evidence and hearing counsel on both the sides, his lordship summed up the case to the jury; the jury without retiring returned a unanimous verdict of "not guilty" on both the charges, and his lordship in acquitting and discharging the accused remarked, that the accused should consider himself fortunate. The jury's unanimous verdict was difficult to understand.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT.

A third case of theft was disposed of by his lordship and the same jury, in which a Mahomedan, named Ibrahim Sardar, alias Gafoor Jaffer, was charged with theft.

Mr. Chatfield was for the Crown, the accused not being defended.

Counsel for the Crown in opening his case said that at the Cocoanut Fair on August 16, the accused took a purse from the pocket of the complainant, Abdul Latif. He was seen in the act, and was arrested and handed over to the police. But the purse was not found on him, as he had handed it over to another man.

The jury found him guilty, and as he had several previous convictions against him he was sentenced to five years' rigorous imprisonment.

The Sessions was then adjourned until to-day.

A FALSE CHARGE.

An appeal preferred by Anandrao Vyanktarao Jadhaw for the revision of sentence passed by Mr. A. C. L. Brayne, sub-divisional magistrate of Satara, came up for disposal before Mr. Justice Heaton and Mr. Justice Shah.

Mr. Ramdatt and Mr. Desai appeared for the appellant.

It was stated that on November 13, about 8 or 9 p. m., the appellant went to the police Patel of Karandi and complained that one Ganoo Sitaram of his village had, about 6-30 p. m. the same day, snatched from the neck of his little girl a gold necklace worth about Rs 96. The following day the police Patel called the Kulkarni and the latter recorded Anandrao's complaint. The gist of it was that, when Anandarao was in his house, his little girl Shanta, aged 2 1-2, was playing outside under a tree. Ganoo came up and snatched her necklace. One Gopal, a neighbour who was sitting in front of his house, saw the theft. He raised a cry which Anandrao heard The latter came out of his house and saw Ganoo running away with the necklace. Anandrao pursued Ganoo and struck him several times with a stick. While he was beating Ganoo, one Aba Govindrao came running up but Ganoo managed to get away. This statement was sent by the police Patel to the Sub-Inspector of Satara, who went to Karandi and examined Anandrao and other witnesses. In his inquiry it was found that a nephew of Anandrao had beaten Ganoo, because the latter was found with a woman of Anandrao's family. The complaint as to the theft was found false so Anandrao was prosecuted by the Sub-Inspector before Mr. Brayne, who tried and convicted him under Section 211 of the Indian Penal Code, for bringing a false charge of an offence with intent to injure. He was, therefore, sentenced to undergo one month's rigorous imprisonment, and pay a fine of Rs. 100, or in default undergo a further term of two months' rigorous imprisonment.

Against this conviction Anandrao appealed to Mr. C. A. Kincaid, Sessions Judge of Satara, who confirmed the Lower Court's finding and sentence, and dismissed the appeal. Against this dismissal the appellant preferred an appeal to the High Court.

Their Lordships after hearing the arguments rejected the appeal.

DACOITY APPEAL.

Mr. Justice Macleod heard arguments and reserved his judgment in an appeal arising of a dacoity case.

The appeal originally came before Mr. Justice Heaton and Mr. Justice Shah, and the appeal was preferred by Mangappa Kardippa and three others, who had been convicted in a dacoity case by the Sessions Judge of Bijapur. The facts of the case were that on January 11 last, a dacoity was committed in the house of one Aminabai at Islampur, and cash amounting to Rs. 2,000 and jewellery of the value of Rs 7,000 was carried away. Eleven men were arrested and they were all convicted by Mr. Boyd. Of these men the tenth accused, one of the appellants, was sentenced to 10 years' rigorous imprisonment and the rest were sentenced to 7 years' rigorous imprisonment each. The accused Nos. 4, 9, 10 and 11 were convicted on the confession of a co-accused, and there was no other independent evidence to corroborate the confession. The above four accused appealed against their conviction on the ground that a co-accused's evidence was inadmissable and that there was not sufficient evidence against them to convict.

Mr. Justice Heaton held that the accused could be convicted on the evidence and therefore upheld the conviction. Mr. Justice Shah differed from this opinion and held that the conviction could not be upheld.

The matter was, therefore, referred to the Chief Justice for the appointment of a third Judge to hear the appeal.

Mr. Justice Macleod was appointed, and as stated reserved his judgment yesterday.

Mr. Bhulabhai Desai, barrister, with Mr. H. B. Gumaste, appeared for the appellants, while the Hon. the Advocate-General with Mr. Patker, Government Pleader, was for the Crown.

PARTITION OF ESTATE.

Judgment was delivered by Mr. Justice Beaman, in the suit filed by Haji Ahmed Saleh Mahomed against Dadu Ibrahim and others for a partition of estate.

Mr. Captain with Mr. Weldon, instructed by Messrs. Captain and Vaidya, appeared for the plaintiff; Mr. Bahadurji, instructed by Messrs. Nadirsha and Darasha was for the first defendant, and Mr. Haveliwalla with Mr. Talyarkhan, instructed by Messrs. Subnis and Goregaoker appeared for the second defendant.

The facts of the case have already been reported.

His Lordship, in delivering his judgment, said that the sale of the shop alleged by the first defendant should be set aside the shop in the dispute should go back to the common stock and should be referred to the Commissioner to ascertain the share. The Memonwada property should go back to the common fund and the first defendant should give an account of the shop since the death of Fatmabai. The evidence adduced by the first defendant about the alleged sale of the shop was not satisfactory and would, therefore, be disbelieved by the Court. The costs of the suit would be paid by the first defendant and further costs would be reserved.

POLICE COURTS.

CAUGHT RED-HANDED.

A Hindu lad, named Nursey Lalji, was on Saturday placed by Inspector Smith before Mr. A. H. S. Aston, Chief Presidency Magistrate on charges of house-breaking by day and attempted theft.

It appeared that on the 7th instant a goldsmith working in a shop in Mint Road closed his shop about noon, and went to his house as usual to take his midday meal, locking the door of the shop. A servant came to the shop and found the door open and the accused inside. A bunch of keys and a set of silver buttons and a few annas were found on him.

The accused pleaded guilty, and the magistrate sentenced him to one month's rigorous imprisonment on the first charge, and bound him over in a sum of Rs. 25 to be of good behaviour for six months on the second charge.

CARE-TAKER OF SEAMEN'S REST SENTENCED.

Heinrich Hich, a German, who was employed as the care-taker of the Seamen'sRest, Frere Road, was placed before Rao Bahadur C. H. Setalwad, Second Presidency Magistrate, by Sergeant Kilwin, charged with criminal breach of trust in respect of some chairs and two planks valued at Rs. 50, belonging to the Rest.

It appeared from the evidence that the chairs and planks were missed on Thursday by the Superintendent of the Rest, and the accused on being questioned admitted having sold them to a second hand furniture-dealer. Some of the chairs were recovered from the dealer.

The accused admitted his guilt, and said he had made good the loss to the Superintendent.

Mr. Hudson, the Superintendent, said he did not wish to press the charge against the accused and that he was willing to reinstate him.

The magistrate sentenced the accused to one day's simple imprisonment and a fine of Rs. 25.

ASSAULTING A POLICE SEPOY.

Habibkhan Illabikhan, a boiler-maker, was fined Rs. 45 by Rao Bahadur C. H. Setalwad at the Mazagon Police Court, on Saturday, on a charge of assaulting a B. B. and C. I. Railway Police Constable while discharging his duty.

Mr. Kadri, police prosecutor, B. B. and C. I., conducted the prosecution and Mr. DeCunha, pleader, defended the accused.

It appeared that on Wednesday last the accused was seen by the constable approaching the platform along the railway track. He told him that he could not come to the platform that way when the accused was alleged to have struck him with a stick.

The accused said that he was drunk at the time, and the magistrate sentenced him as stated above.

CLERK'S FALSE CHIT.

Ganesh Mahadeo, a clerk in Messrs. Ralli Brothers, was on Saturday charged by Sergeant Kilwin, before Rao Bahadur Setalwad, at Mazagon, with cheating in respect of eight annas.

The shipment clerk in the firm received a cart chit for eight annas from a boy and the sum was paid. The chit was afterwards discovered to have been false, and it was traced to the accused. The accused said he was not guilty, but the magistrate convicted him and sentenced him to one day's simple imprisonment and a fine of Rs. 20.

THE SMALL CAUSES COURT.

As notified a few days ago Mr. N. W. Kemp, Chief Judge, Small Causes Court began to hold his Court on Saturday in the old General Post Office Building for the transaction of urgent work. The Chief Judge will thus hold his Court till the 20th instant, by which time it is expected that arrangements for the housing of the other Courts will be made. The Courts will be held in this building for six months by which time it is understood that a temporary structure for the accommodation of the Courts will be completed on the Maidan, on the site where the Maidanis formerly stood and opposite the Elphinstone High School.

MISS MAUD ALLAN.

TO SET SAIL THE END OF SEPTEMBER.

Miss Maud Allan, who as the Bombay Gazette has previously intimated, is coming to India, in spite of the objections which have been made in some quarters, sails on September 28. She has amalgamated with the famous Leo. Jan and Mischel Cherniavsky for the forthcoming tour in India and the East, which will include China, Japan, and The Philippines and the Straits Settlements. Mr. Edie states that the company will be the most powerful attraction that has ever visited these parts. Leo Cherniavsky cables:—"Have definitely fixed with Maud Allan to join forces in artistic invasion of India and the East; the sceptics will capitulate when they see Maud Allan's marvellous work. She is the most musical woman I ever met, and says our music inspires her wonderfully, enhancing her work." "We met Maud Allan," says Mr. Edie "in South Africa—I was then only associated with the Cherniavskys—and we discussed the present amalgamation; but consideration of the enormous expense induced us to abandon the idea, until we prospected India and the East for ourselves. During the Cherniavskys' previous tour we sounded the people of India and the East as to the support likely to be given to Maud Allan supported by an expensive company, and we deduced the fact that, apart from the Europeans, there were tens of thousands of Indians and Parsees desirous of seeing an artist who would influence for good the art of dancing in India. The Cherniavskys' music alone is probably the most artistic thing ever heard in India and to this the work of one of the world's greatest artists, and you have a combination that might easily be considered excellent in Paradise, and whose performances immortals might delight in. Certainly the performances will surpass, I should imagine, those likely to be experienced my many of the pessimists when they reach that distant shore. The pessimist is a stumbling block to progress and belongs to the class to whom we are indebted for decadent civilization.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE EXCELSIOR.

Three new catchy songs are being given at the Excelsior this week by Alice Digby, the pantomime favourite, who is appearing there for one week more. Especially popular will be found the song "Who are you with to night?" which has nothing at all to do with a similar song sung in the past tense. Miss Digby achieved considerable success with this song in London, and its catchy refrain caught on very well. Quite a different type of song is "The Magic of Your Voice", a taking little ballad sung in the most charming manner, and Miss Digby singing of "Three Little Mice" after the manner of a child is a very funny and quaint thing imaginable.

Miss Digby has another of her international dances, this week's attraction being an American step dance, in which she achieves quite a triumph.

In the films there is quality and quantity as well as variety. The Quadrangular Cricket Tournament has been filmed specially for the Excelsior and the details of the play are shown with remarkable clearness by Pathe Frere's representative. A striking story of jealousy and revenge is "The tragedy of the Black Rock." "The Ant and the Grasshopper" has a distinct educative value. There is no fake at all about the film, which is the third of a series, the other two having been presented at the Excelsior some time ago. It is a film with a moral as well. The humorous film describes another adventure of the famous cinema comedian "Jim," who takes it into his head to achieve fame on the racing track. He discovers some patent pills which inbue him with unexpected powers, and the result is that he covers himself with glory, though in an extremely unorthodox manner.

Altogether it is a fine programme that the Excelsior are presenting.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS.

suggestion that something should be done to appeal to the Chinese and Japanese markets, the "Berliner Zeitung" says:—"The big factories in Germany have more of the Chinese and Japanese than they really care for. That we have good things to sell the Eastern Asiatics know already, and what we have for them to copy they have already copied. At all events we can protect our interests against the clumsiest features of this pilfery [the 'Berliner Zeitung' uses the word 'Kulturdiebstahl' or culture theft] in other ways than by establishing a special branch at San Francisco for the service of the inquisitive."

Discussing the suggestion that the manufacturers of fashion-wares and articles de luxe are anxious to exhibit at San Francisco, the "Berliner Zeitung" declares that there is an artificial enthusiasm in this case. The idea, the newspaper says, is to persuade the United States to lower the proposed duty on these articles. "It is another case of German servility," the "Berliner Zeitung" says, "If the question of taking part in the exhibition is to be decided on account of such motives our answer must be an emphatic 'No.' Let the United States show first of all that they have some liking for us. The only sign we have so far is a blow aimed at the German speech through the proposed Customs tax on German books. Herr Ballin, in spite of his good intentions, is really doing us ill-service through his initiative."

BAD ERUPTION ALL OVER BABY'S BODY

Hardly Slept at All. Completely Disfigured with the Spots. One Box of Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Soap Completely Cured.

67, York Rd., Walthamstow, Essex, Eng. —"My baby was cured after two weeks' treatment with Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. At the beginning of the summer she had a very bad eruption all over her body, even her finger tips being afflicted. It came in the form of spots which as fast as one healed, another formed. The spots commenced like pin pricks gradually getting larger and were inflamed causing great irritation which caused the baby to scratch so that they commenced to break and run with what looked like water. She hardly slept at all except in short snatches. The child was completely disfigured with the spots.

"I saw the Cuticura advertisement and sent for samples, and after her first bath with the Cuticura Soap and application of the Cuticura Ointment I know she felt relief. For a fortnight I continued the baths with Cuticura Soap, and applied the Cuticura Ointment gently after. I used only one box of Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Soap, and they completely cured her." (Signed) Mrs. M. Saunders, Jan. 23, 1912.

No other emollients do so much for pimples, blackheads, red, rough skins and itching, scaly scalps. Although Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold throughout India, a liberal sample of each, with 32-p. Skin Book, will be sent post-free on application to Muller, Maclean & Co., Calcutta or Bombay, or Newbery, 27 Charterhouse Sq., London.

NEWS LATER THAN THE MAIL.

PROGRESS OF THE EMPIRE.

THE 1915 EXHIBITION.

The following messages, which appear in the Australian papers are later than the mail :—

London, Aug. 31.

The promoters of the Imperial Exhibition to be held in London in 1915 emphasise the point that one of the main features will be the display of the natural products of the dominions with the finished article of British manufacture simultaneously. The exhibition will illustrate the progress made by the dominions in the manufacturing arts, and moreover, British firms will be enabled to estimate the nature and extent of the competition facing them in the dominion markets. The exhibition promises to afford an unparalleled opportunity for Imperial stock-taking. Despite the enormous growth of the inter-Imperial trade during the past 10 years, the promoters are confident that with a greater insight into the needs and possibilities of the different parts of the Empire a far greater expansion will be possible. All Parliamentary parties are heartily supporting the project.

VISCOUNT HALDANE IN AMERICA.

New York, Aug. 30.

Viscount Haldane, the British Lord Chancellor, arrived here yesterday, and was met by a delegation of newspaper representatives. In the course of an interview he declared he was in favour of woman suffrage, and he predicted that the Home Rule Bill would become law. He hoped that the militant suffragettes would not find a footing in the United States. He considered that in the matter of interviewing visitors the United States was delightfully progressive.

To-day Viscount Haldane visited the Westport Military Academy and was accorded a salute of 19 guns. He will proceed to Montreal to be present at a meeting of the American Bar Association to deal with the matter of securing uniformity in judicial procedure. The meeting will be attended by Judges from every American State.

JAPANESE TYPHOON.

SCORES OF DEATHS AND WIDESPREAD DAMAGE.

Tokio, Aug. 30.

A typhoon swept over the Tokio district yesterday and caused scores of deaths.

During the height of the storm seventeen children were climbing Mt. Komagatake. All of them perished.

Hundreds of bridges and houses were destroyed, and 1,500 houses were submerged. The railway lines in the affected district were damaged, and the crops were partly ruined.

BRITISH ARMY MANOEUVRES.

London, Aug. 30.

Forty thousand troops will take part in the British army manoeuvres next month. Mr. Hughes (Canadian Minister for Defence) and a large party of Canadian officers will attend the manoeuvres. The visitors will be granted special facilities to obtain military experience.

THE MEXICAN REVOLT.

Mexico City, Aug. 31.

It is stated that secret instructions, received from the United States and spread throughout Mexico, indicate that America will intervene if further attacks be made upon the lives or property of Americans in Mexico.

THE GREEK KING.

Vienna Aug, 31.

It is understood here that King Constantine of Greece will be crowned in May next with the Imperial Byzantine Crown which is presented at Mount Athos. He will also wear the Byzantine Emperor's purple mantle. The latter action will, it is feared, give offence to the other, Balkan nations.

JACK JOHNSON'S MUSIC-HALL ENGAGEMENT.

POSTPONEMENT ARRANGED.

The following statement by the management of the South London and Euston Variety Theatres on the subject of Jack Johnson's engagement to appear at these halls was issued by Mr. Henry Tozer after a conference at the office of the Variety Theatres Consolidated (Limited) :—

"In accordance with our previous intention to discuss with Johnson on his arrival the question of his appearing, we have to-day seen him and have explained the present position. He desires to deal thoroughly with the criticisms made, and with this object is arranging certain interviews and taking other measures to meet the allegations. In the meantime, concurring with the view of the management that, for the present, his appearances as arranged will be inadvisable, he has requested the postponement of his engagement."

Johnson himself made the following statement :—"My public appearance has been postponed at my own wish, and no definite date has yet been fixed. This postponement does not affect my provincial engagements, which include Birmingham, Manchester, Edinburgh, Leeds, and other places."

Johnson visited the Euston Theatre of Varieties during the first performance on Aug 25. As he entered a box he was loudly cheered. He bowed, and his manager thanked the audience for their greeting Two of the women performers who had objected to Johnson appearing at the hall had been previously interrupted by occupant of the gallery, and after an unsuccessful appeal from the manager in each case for a fair hearing, they walked off without finishing their songs. Johnson afterwards visited the South London Palace, where, in spite of some slight dissent, he was loudly cheered by the greater part of the audience. He made a short speech of thanks, in the course of which he said that he had committed none of the crimes that had been put down to him in America, but his real crime was that he defeated Jeffreys.

HOLIDAY AMONG THE TOMBS

FASCINATION OF EPITAPH HUNTING.

A holiday consisting largely of an itinerary of churchyards and a study of tombstones (writes Whitfield Crofts in the "English Illustrated Magazine") may not at first mention appear particularly exhilarating, and yet it is one calculated to appeal to many.

In such peregrinations one comes across many beauty spots, rarely invaded by strangers, with extremely interesting old churches and idyllic villages whose existence one never suspects.

The earliest epitaph in English is said to be found in an Oxfordshire churchyard, and dates back to 1370. The antique typography and the obsolete language would, however, render it unintelligible to all but those versed in the literature of the period. The first few lines may be given here as a guide to any fortuntate epitaph collector who may discover a similar kind of inscription:—

Man com and se how schal alle dede be:
wen you comes bad and bare; noth hav ven we away fare: all ys werines yt ye for care. The following:—

Honest John
's dead and gone,

which will be found in the churchyard of St. John's Worcester, has a high claim for terseness; and this, again, for pithiness and force, would not be easy to surpass:—

Here lies W. W.,
He will nevermore trouble you.

The longest inscription, by the way, at any rate to the memory of a celebrated personage, is to be found on a tombstone in the old church of Disley, nere Stockport of the centenarian, Joseph Watson, of Lynn who died in 1753. This runs to upwards of 450 words, and gives an account of his life, character, and the manner of his death.

Collectors of tombstone literature with a penchant for those of a comic, droll, or humorous nature have a crowded field for exploration.

The most absurd that I can recall is the following much-quoted example, which I was told was to be found in Penryn churchyard, but which I failed to locate there:—

Here lie I
Killed by a Sky
Rocket
In my eye
Socket.

Another rather similar epitaph, but not, I fancy, so well-known, which I found and copied, records an accident which occurred to the son of a former parish clerk at Bampton, in Devonshire, who was killed by an icicle falling upon and fracturing his skull :—

Bless my i, i, i, i, i, i,
Here I lies,
In a sad pickle,
Killed by icicle.

Another epitaph in a little Cornish churchyard tells us quaintly :—

His end was thus—
He was run over by a 'bus.

An epitaph said to exist on a tombstone in this country, but which I have never seen definitely located, is evidently rustic, so flagrant are the liberties it takes with English grammar. It runs :—

And am she dead, and are she gone?
And have she left I all alone?
Oh, cruel fate! you is unkind
To take she 'fore, and leave I 'hind

In the epitaphs of a certain period punning was indulged in ad nauseam. Of this style of "battered witticism," as Holmes terms it, we have many more or less laboured drolleries. One of the best of its kind, more creditable to the head, if not the heart of the epitaphist, is the following upon a man named Cave, to be found in the churchyard of Barrow-upon-Soar, in Leicestershire :—

Here in this grave there lies a Cave ;
We call a cave a grave.
If Cave be grave and grave be Cave,
Then reader, judge, I crave,
Whether doth Cave lie here in grave,
Or grave here lie in Cave ;
If grave in Cave here buried lie,
Then, grave, where is thy victory ?
Go, reader, and report, here lies a Cave,
Who conquers death and buries his own grave.

In Beddington Church, an ancient edifice partially restored in the last century, a quaint memorial was erected in 1634 by William Greenhill, M. A., in honour of his brother, Thomas Greenhill, steward of Sir Nicholas Carew, from which this play upon the "hill" in the name may be quoted as odd in the circumstances :—

He once a hill was fresh and greene,
Now withered is no to be scene,
Earth in earth shovelled up is shut,
A Hill into a hole is put.

Those who remained awhile often had an eye to the main chance and used the tombstone as an effective means of advertisement. An example is to be seen in Pewsey, Wilts, which runs as follows:—

Beneath this stone, in hopes of Sion,
Is laid the landlord of "The Lion,"
Resigned unto the Heavenly Will.
His son keeps on the buiness still.

At first sight the queer sentence which closes the inscription on a tombstone in a churchyard in Leigh is perplexing. After announcing the name and other particulars of the lady there buried, these words follow :—

A virtuous woman is 5s. to her husband.

The explanation here is that space prevented "a crown" being cut in full, and the stonecutter argued that a crown equals 5s

THE AMERICA CUP RACE.

CONDITIONS ANNOUNCED.

The New York Yacht Club has announced the conditions agreed upon with the Royal Ulster Yacht Club (representing Sir Thomas Lipton) to govern the race for the America Cup in 1914. No statement is made regarding the dimensions of the defender. The rules announced do not differ materially from those of the last races.

The races will begin on September 10 and continue on Thursdays, Saturdays, and Tuesdays until they are concluded. The first and third races will be over 30 miles to windward. The second race will be over an equilateral triangle. The New York Yacht Club maintained its right to build a yacht of any size within the extreme limits set forth in the Deed of Gift. Thereupon the Royal Ulster Yacht Club disclaimed any intention to enforce conditions opposed to those which Sir Thomas Lipton had already agreed to.

The time limit for the races will be six hour instead of five-and-a-half.

BRIEF AND PITHY.

CHANCELLOR'S ESCAPE.

Mr. Lloyd George, in making facetious reference to his golf adventure (says the "Western Mail"), probably forgot the shock experienced by a well-known Liverpool stockbroker, who, a year or two ago, happened to be playing on the Criccieth links at the same time as the Chancellor of the Exchequer. In a long drive the Liverpool golfer watched his ball on its flight over a fence, when at the moment of its passing above the obstacle he saw a head appear on the other side. The ball passed within an inch of that head—the head, as it afterwards transpired of the famous politician. Needless to say, the Chancellor was unperturbed by the incident. His narrow escapes would fill a book.

BAPTISM RECORD.

A revivalist went on board one of the ships of the line to confer with the admiral (says the "Shipping World"), and the following conversation ensued:—

"I've called to see you, Sir, about the state of religion in the Fleet. We have had a glorious awakening in the Arethusa (the crack ship), and I want to interest your men in the subject of their everlasting welfare."

"Ah !"

"Yes, Sir, we baptised ten men in the Arethusa yesterday."

"The deuce you did ! Here, Captain——, order out twenty men for baptism first thing to-morrow morning. I'll be hanged if I'll be beat by any Arethusa in this service!"

MOCKING BIRD COMEDY.

Concealed in some bushes a French sportsman near Nimes was mimicking the call of a quail, says the "Daily Mail" Paris correspondent. Hearing the sound, and mistaking it for the note of a real bird, another sportsman began to creep up to the covert.

He repeated the call, which was in turn mistaken by the first sportsman for that of a natural quail. Both sportsmen eventually fired and each was wounded, though not seriously.

BULL AND ECHO.

For a bull he has normally a disposition that is quite lamblike, but there is one field of the farm which he hates, and it infuriates him to be in it.

In this field he behaves dreadfully. He lowers his head, lashes his tail, and bellows fiercely, and should unwary golfers stray into the field from the neighbouring links after lost balls, he chases them out, bag, clubs, and all, in most desperate fashion.

The farmer's boy has discovered the reason of this behaviour. That particular field has an echo. The bull bellows and is answered by the echo of his own voice, and he believes that a rival bull is trespassing on his preserves.—"Manchester Guardian."

CINEMA MEETING.

During a cinematograph performance at Whitstable (says the "Sphere"), a visitor was suddenly taken ill and had to be carried out. It was afterwards ascertained that he had suddenly recognised on the film a brother who went to Italy some years ago and was thought dead. Considering that the film represented "Quo Vadis?" the recognition is the more surprising, for his brother left him in a coat and trousers and was now either an ancient Roman or an early Christian.

A STORY OF HICKORY WOOD.

The late Mr. J. Hickory Wood, the pantomime librettist, used to tell a story of Dan Leno's part in a Drury Lane pantomime. It is here reproduced from the "Daily Chronicle":—

"He took the part of Mother Goose, a very funny part, which had been specially written for Mr. Fred Emney, always so excellent in old woman characters. I had arranged for Dan Leno to play Idle Jack, but the part was somewhat overshadowed by Mother Goose, and Leno refused to have anything to do with the pantomime unless he could play the old woman.

"Arthur Collins himself, who was paying Leno what was then a very big salary, was also anxious that Idle Jack should be handed on to someone else, so Herbert Campbell played it, and Fred Emney took the part of the Mayor. I remember Collins's very words when he saw the part I had originally written for Dan Leno, 'Man alive!' he cried, 'I can't afford to have £250 sitting in the dressing-room half the evening!'"

HOW WOULD HE KNOW?

A rising young artist was showing a woman through his studio.

"This picture," he said, stopping before one of his early efforts, "is one. I painted to keep the wolf from the door."

"Indeed!" replied the woman, "then why don't you hang it on the knob, where the wolf can see it?"—"Harper's Magazine."

PATTERLOGUES.

Mr. George Arthurs, an author who has written popular verse for Mr. Wilkie Bard and for Mr. George Edwardes's productions, has just published a little volume entitled "Patterlogues." The following are some extracts:—

Adam.—The first man, who was born on the longest day—it had no Eve. Author of "Only One Girl in the World for Me."

Ann, Queen.—An early English Queen, princi[illegible]y noted for being dead.

Ar[illegible]en, Hans.—The inventor of fairy tales [illegible]other excuses for being out late at nig[illegible]s.

[illegible]s, Bobbie.—The only Scotch writer w[illegible] stayed in Scotland instead of migrating to Fleet-street.

Columbus.—The discoverer of America. He died of a broken heart because he couldn't understand the slang.

Darwin.—The man who discovered that his family tree was a cocoanut palm.

Godiva, Lady.—The first bare-backed rider, who played to an audience of one.

CROWNING OF GREEK KING.

REVIVAL OF SPLENDOURS OF BYZANTINE PERIOD.

According to news received at Vienna, the coronation of King Constantine of Greece will be performed according to the rites of the ancient Byzantine Empire next May.

The gold-embroidered purple imperial robe, with its glistening diamonds and the double eagle crown, guarded by the monks of Mount Athos since the time of the Byzantine Emperors, will see the light of day on this occasion, the monks carrying them in solemn procession to Athens.

As the last two kings were crowned very quietly this extraordinary pomp and splendour is causing rejoicing in Greek circles in Vienna.

VETARZO BRAIN AND NERVE FOOD
This remarkable compound, the latest discovery of modern times for all phases of brain and nerve wreckage and exhaustion, sleeplessness, tremblings, palpitation, nervous dyspepsia, low spirits, mental and bodily prostration, muscular and local weakness, general and nervous debility, faulty nutrition, premature decay or deficiency of the vital forces, impaired vitality, harassing dreams, night disturbances, sudden startings, dimness of sight, defective hearing, loss of memory, inability to perform the various duties of life, or to enjoy its pleasures, restlessness that can settle to nothing, irritability of temper, female complaints, hysteria, painful periods, backache, bearing down sensations, nervous headache, wasting disease, night sweats, &c., whether induced by worry, overwork, unhealthy climate, dissipation, excesses, or other influences incidental to the wear and tear and haste or overstrain of modern life. VETARZO BLOOD MEDICINE
Never before was there anything like it, nor can its marvellous properties ever be equalled in all cases of poorness, impurity, or other imperfection of the blood from whatever cause arising. No sooner is it imbibed into the system than it permeates and penetrates to the minutest capillaries, overcoming and expelling the virus of disease, wheresoever and in whatsoever form met with; removing all blotches, pimples, scurf, scurvy, scrofulous and glandular swellings, discolorations, roughness and unsightly patches, &c. Its effects are almost magical in the treatment of gout, rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago, pains and swellings of the joints, discharges, blood poison, secondary symptoms, eczema, lepra, psoriasis, bad legs, bad breasts, abscesses, ulcers, wounds, sores, goitre or Derbyshire neck, it improves the general health, and quickly removes long-standing bronchitis, asthma, and hacking, straining, spasmodic cough, too often the precursor of consumption.
CAUTION.—Ask for "VETARZO Brain and Nerve Food," or "VETARZO Blood Medicine," which ever is required, and see that you get them, as unprincipled vendors often try to palm off inferior preparations (usually their own manufacture), for the sake of extra profit. NOTES FROM THE MAIL.

CONTRABAND IN A COFFIN.

A funeral procession from Saint-Oswald, a little village on the frontier of Switzerland and Bavaria, was about to cross the border when it was stopped by police, who seized the coffin and arrested the mourners. The coffin was found to contain contraband saccharine, with which the mourners pockets were also filled.

BALKAN PRINCE'S MARRIAGE.

The Crown Prince of Rumania and his son, Prince Charles, aged nineteen, are paying a visit to the Russian Imperial family in October at Yalta, in the Crimea, in connection with the projected marriage between Prince Charles and the Grand Duchess Tatiana, the Czar's second daughter who is sixteen.

DISAPPEARING OLD LONDON.

Orange-street Congregational Church, Leicester-square, originally Leicester Fields Chapel, which has stood for 220 years, is about to close its doors. The church was built by the French Huguenots seeking refuge from France at the time of the revocation of the Edict of Nantes in 1685. It has been successively in the hands of the Huguenots and Episco-palians and now the Congregationalists.

INVALID DOG'S CUSTUME.

A dog wearing a smart dust coat, leather shoes on its fore paws, and what appeared to be a hat set at a rakish angle on its head has been seen in the West End. It was not, as many people thought, a canine "nut" but an invalid. An expert explained that the coat was to protect the skin, while the shoes covered sore pads, and the hat shielded a bad eye.

LADY TENNIS PLAYER'S DEATH.

Mrs. Ada. Pheysey, wife of Mr. H. R. Pheysey, of Hinckley, has died from lockjaw, following the breaking of her arm in a fall while playing tennis. Little notice was taken of the injury by Mrs. Pheysey until the more serious symptoms set in. Then the arm was amputated in the hope of saving her life.

OPEN BOAT'S LONG VOYAGE.

Captain Mathias Johnson, of Perth Amboy (N. J.), has left Eastport Harbour in his open boat, George Washington, for a voyage to San Francisco via the Panama Canal. Captain Johnson had less than 1dol in his pocket when leaving. Crowds collected on Todd's Head, the most easterly, point of land at Eastport, to cheer him. He fired a salute from his brass cannon as he left.

PAVEMENT COLLAPSE.

By the collapse of a flagstone eight feet square in a pavement at Huddersfield three pedestrians fell into a cellar. Shortly before the accident two inspectors of the Corporation Tramways Department had noticed that the pavement appeared to be sinking. They descended into the cellor below and one of them, Inspector Gledhill, had just struck a match when the stone collapsed, grazing both him and his companion. One of the three men who fell with the stone had a leg injured.

THE SPARROW'S DEPREDATIONS.

There are very few sparrows in London at present. All but the old birds are in the country, where countless multitudes are making their annual raid on the cornfields. Immense swarms of these voracious birds are taking a heavy toll of the farmers. So serious have their depredations become in some districts that many farmers have ceased to grow corn at all. It has been estimated that the loss caused in this way byhouse sparrows is not less than £2,000,000 a year, and possibly much more. Each year the feathered thieves do more and more damage, for their numbers are rapidly increasing.

ESCAPE OF PEER'S GRANDSON.

Lord Kinnaird's grandchild, Graham Charles Kinnaird, aged eleven months, had a remarkable escape from a carriage accident in Dundee. The child and a nurse with several servants, were returning to Rossie Priory from Dundee Flower Show in a wagonette when a wheel of the vehicle caught in a railway metal in the street near Taybridge Station. The wagonette was overturned and the party of ten thrown out. Several sustained bruises, but the infant was apparently unhurt. The child is the son of Lord Kinnaird's second son Mr. Kenneth Kinnaird.

DOGS TRACK CRIMINALS.

After vainly trying to trace the murderers of a Jewish family of five persons named Fridmann at a village five miles from Kishineff, the local police obtained the Odessa police's two famous dogs Spitz and Prinz. Though six days had elapsed since the crime, Spitz picked up a trail. This led to a temporary barrack occupied by a company of the 14th Infantry Regiment. From beneath a straw sack Spitz dragged out a blood-stained pair of trousers and a tunic. Two soldiers then confessed to the crime. This is the eleventh murder case in which Spitz has tracked down the culprit after the police had failed.

THE KAISER'S NEW YACHT.

The work on the Kaiser's splendid new yacht, which is to replace the Hohenzollern, is being rapidly pushed forward, and the vessel will be launched next year, probably in time for His Majesty's usual trip to Norway. The rooms which will be occupied by the Kaiser have all been arranged according to His Majesty's own plans. The feature of decoration of the study and dining saloon will be seascapes by the best marine painters of Germany. The new yacht will be longer and broader than the Hohenzollern and is describedas modelled on the proportions of an auxiliary cruiser. The Hohenzollern has a speed of twenty two knots; that of the new yacht will exceed twenty-five. The Hohenzollern has a crew of 344 officers and men; the new vessel will have a crew of over 400.

SPIRIT OF TEETOTALISM.

Visitors to London are complaining more than ever this year that hotel prices are going up all round. Rooms and meals alike cost more, and (says a London correspondent of the "Leeds Mercury") the managers do not deny the fact. They put the blame on teetotalers. A large portion of their profits used to come from wines and spirits consumed by their guests. Nowadays not only is there less wine drunkon ordinary occasions, but even the ceremonial banquets, which used to mean fat wine profits for the big hotels, are now much less valuable to them. Toast lists are shorter, and it is no longer a crime to drink a toast in a non-alcoholic beverage. Hoted keepers and wine merchants find in this spirit of teetotalism another sign of national degeneracy.

SCIENCE NOTES.

PROGRESS IN PANAMA.

The grand total of canal excavation to July 1st was 203,383,539 cubic yards, leaving to be excavated 14,812, 034 cubic yards. The total excavation for the month of June was 2,659, 424 cubic yards, as compared with 2,339,770 cubic yards for the corresponding month last year.

WIDENING A TUBE RAILWAY.

The City and South London Tube Railway, the first of its kind to be built in London, is to be widened. Its present width is 10 feet 2 inches, and under the scheme of reconstruction this is to be extended to a width sufficient to accommodate cars of the same size as those that use other and later tube railways. These tubes are cast-iron lined, and their enlargement will call for some interesting re-construction work.

ADVANTAGE OF RAILROAD ELECTRIFICATION.

An incidental advantage of the use of electric traction on railroads has developed in the freight yard of the New York, New Haven, and Hartford Railroad at the Harlem River, New York. The abolition of steam locomotives has so reduced the noise and smoke that land in the vicinity is now being covered with dwelling houses, which formerly was considered, because of these nuisances, to be uninhabitable.

SCIENTIFIC TABLES.

Errors in Scientific Tables are the cause of much vexation, and sometimes of grave disasters. In a letter to Nature calling attention to a series of errors in the 1896 edition of the Smithsonian Physical Tables Mr. C. T. Whitmell makes the admirable suggestion that all discovered errors in tables should be sent at once to some official body, which should annually publish corrections of them. Here is a suggetion, realizable with a minimum of labour and expense of which the scientific world ought immediately to take notice. The international Association of Academies appears to be the body best fitted to handle such an undertaking. (The errors discovered by Mr. Whitmell have been corrected in a later edition of the Smithsonian Tables).

SHIP'S RUDDER WITH A DOORWAY.

The new Cunard liner "Aquitania," which is about the same size as the "Imperator," is provided with a novel feature in her balanced rudder. This consists of a doorway leading to the interior of the rudder, which is of sufficient size to admit workmen at any time it should become necessary to remove the pin which connects the rudder to the ship. According, to the "Shipping World," this pin is four feet in length and is larger than the heaviest projectile made for modern artillery.

COMPLETING THE WORLD'S OCEAN SURVEY.

That the work of charting the rocks and shoals which constitute a menace to navigation is not by any means completed is shown by the report of the Navy Hydrographer of the British Admiralty for 1912, in which he states that during the year no less than 509 rocks and shoals were reported. Of this total, 10 were reported by naval vessels, 120 by surveying ships, 9 were found by vessels striking upon them, 59 were reported by various British and foreign authorities, and 311 were reported by colonial and foreign governments.

ASSOCIATION OF ACADEMIES.

The International Association of Academies held its fifth meeting in St. Petersburg in the middle of May. At the suggestion of the Berlin Academy a committee was appointed to encourage the organization of vulcanological institutes in the various countries, ultimately an international commission will be formed to act as a connecting link between these national bodies. Another committee was appointed to consider the feasibility of introducing a more scientific scale and definition of compound colors than now exists. One of the most interesting topics considered by the association, and ultimately referred to a committee for further attention, was a French scheme for reforming the calendar, according to which Easter would fall on a fixed date and any day of the year would always fall on the same day of the week. The association was lavishly entertained, and the delegates were individually presented to the Czar. The next meeting will be held three years hence in Berlin.

PILOT-BALLOON STATION.

An international system of pilot-balloon stations is a desideratum to which Prof. Hergesell, President of the International Commission for Scientific Aeronautics, has recently called attention. A pilot-balloon carries no basket or apparatus of any kind; it is simply set adrift, and its motion through the air is followed with a theodolite. It thus serves to determine the direction and force of the wind at different levels. In Germany there are upward of fifteen stations at which such observations are made every morning, and Prof. Hergesell urges that other countries establish acorresponding number, in proportion to the extent of their territories. The realization of this project would be not only of great theoretical interest to meteorclogists, but also of much practical value to aeronauts. It is understood that about fifty such stations will be established in Russia within the next two years.

NOVEL ANTI-SKID DEVICE.

A patent has been issued to Thomas Townend of Winnepeg, Manitoba, for an attachment to automobile wheels wherein it is sought to prevent the wheel from skidding or sliding sidewise by providing a series of spring-controlled dogs or claws which may be depressed to engage the ground surface, an adjustable wheel being provided to depress the dogs to a position beyond the circumference of the tire at the under side of the wheel as the latter rotates.

CAR RUNS 83.5 MILES ON A GALLON.

Exceeding by many miles any previous world's record for mileage on a given quantity of fuel, a Franklin car, in an official test by the Automobile Club of America, recently ran 83.5 miles on a single gallon of gasoline over the roads of Long Island. The highest previous official record was 46.1 miles, made in 1909, also with a Franklin car. The new record was made with a specially constructed car having a stock motor of 18 horse-power, and a rear axle geared 1 1-2 to 1. Since there was no differential which would fit this special bevel gear the car was driven only through one rear wheel. A Newcomb carbureter was installed on the engine. The oil consumption was so small as to be almost negligible, less than 1-8 of a pint being used during the entire run. At this rate a car would make 5,344 miles on a gallon of lubricating oil. The gasoline used had a specific gravity of 0.732 (or 61.8 deg. Be. at 60 deg. Fahr.), no adulterant of any kind being used.

ROUND THE WORLD BY RADIUM.

FRENCH DISCIPLE OF JULES VERNE.

The spirit of Jules Verne is not dead in France.

M. Ernest Archdeacon, writing of the marvellous progress made in aerial science, expresses the conviction that in a few centuries aerial navigation as we now know it, will have become as out of date as the horse is to-day as a means of transport.

"For numerous reasons," he remarks in "La Controverse," "it appears unlikely that flying machines will ever considerably exceed 125 miles an hour. At this rate we should take 200 hours, or a little more than eight days, to make a circuit of the earth.

It is evident that we shall soon discover something infinitely better than the aeroplan. It is certain that our children will girdle the earth 25,000 miles in a time of which we at present can have no idea. One sees at once what a fantastic revolution this will cause in the world's commerce.

All the peoples of the earth will then form a sole and single nation. Our planet will have become much too small for the mobility and activity of its inhabitants, who will evidently be bored to see ever the same little landscape with which their eyes are satiated.

According to the mathematical calculations of M. Esnault-Pelterie, the new means of inter-planetary transport will be Jules Verne's cannon-ball transformed into a continuously self-propelling rocket.

"The problem is to give this rocket a self-contained velocity of 11 kilometres (nearly seven miles) a second, which would be sufficient for it to leave the circle of terrestrial attraction. At this velocity our planet could be girdled in 66 minutes, and the journey from Paris to Nice covered in under two minutes.

"Now, with 27 kilogrammes (about 60lb) of radium, a projectile of one ton could be shot from the earth to the moon in about forty-nine hours. The molecular projections of radium would be made to work by reaction.

The difficulty is to find how to release in forty-nine hours all the energy contained in the radium, which, in the present state of science, it would take 2,800 years to set free.

"The difficulty is not insuperable, when we think what has already been achieved. With 400 kilogrammes—that is to say, three-fifths of a ton—on board, a visit might be made to Venus and back to earth again."

LADIES' CORNER.

PRINCESS INDIRA'S TROUSSEAU.

All the world loves a romance, and the wedding of the Gaekwar of Baroda's pretty daughter evoked universal interest, writes a London correspondent. That renowned artist Enos, of 103, Mount Street, W., was responsible for many of the charming gowns and hats in the bride's trousseau. One dress of pum-coloured velours de laine, showed a most novel touche in fashionable gowning in the fulness of the skirt, which, coming a little below the hips, with narrowed dimensions about the feet, imparted the desired peg-top appearance, which is one of the chie sartorial features of the moment. The little coat was made high to the throat, with plain, tight sleeves, and was finished wish a collar and cuffs of ermine. The basque rested lightly on the fulness of the skirt, and another smart note was the neat stitching on the front of the coat and the sleeves, which gave excellent lines. A buckle of white mother-of-pearl and black buttons centred with plum colour and mother-of-pearl added a pleasing finish to this costume. Other notable items of the trousseau supplied by Enos were a beautiful costume of Tussore, and the artistic and becoming little hat of red moire, adorned with a black velvet rose, in which the bride appeared for the second ceremony at the registry office.

A GERMAN HOME.

To the German understanding the kitchen is not a place where the servants may be out of sight when they are not, so to speak, actually in use. Here "die Mutter" spends half her time, superintending, and taking an active part in the preparation of food—for whatever else in Deutschland may call for criticism, the art of cooking is brought to a pitch beyond reproach. And to it is given every consideration, all being designed with the view of labour-saving and comfort and pleasure in the midst of much activity. To begin with, the "range," which takes up one entire corner, has the advantage over the open English range in that it is an accommodating and easily-managed apparatus, free at all times from an unsightly collection of cinders and ash; and economical also, using comparatively little coal. The flat top, raised to within easy reaching distance from the ground, is capable of holding without inconvenience a dozen saucepans, stewpans, and frying-pans, and also a number of flat-irons for the small between maid who, in her spare moments, is to be found tucked away in another corner disposing of the enormous weekly washing—for here no such extravagance as a special laundry maid or an outside laundry is dreamt of.

DELIGHTFUL ENVIRONMENT.

The power for these numerous utensils comes from a small closed fire underneath, which heats at the same time a couple of ovens at one side, and several commodious shelves for plates and dishes, and any food which has to be kept warm. Under the ovens is a drawer for the day's supply of coal, under the fire another drawer for the ash, and all round is a rail upon which the damp dish-towels can be hung after use. Apart from this most important item, the room is delightful. A red-tiled floor gives an air of cheerfulness, and is kept clean by the simple process of emptying upon it several pails of water, working this about for a few minutes with a long-handled mop, and then of brushing the whole into a grating just outside the back door. Half-way up the walls are of white and blue tiles collected from old Westphalian cottages, and above these is whitewash that can be renewed often. The casement windows have leaded panes, at either side of which hang short chintz curtains of a pattern that repeats the red of the floor tiles and the blue of those upon the wall, and adds an especially pleasing touch.

It will relieve the poor sufferer immediately. It is perfectly harmless and pleasant to taste, it produces natural, quiet sleep, by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It soothes the child, it softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for dysentery and diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup is sold by Medicine dealers everywhere.

A Natural Remedy

Time was when disease was thought to be due to the direct influence of evil spirits, and exorcism and magic were invoked to cast it out.

Science has taught us wisdom. The evil spirits exist still. We call them "Disease Germs," and they also must be cast out. Once lodged in the stomach or intestines, fever with its hallucinations, or biliousness with its aches and pains, is the result.

ENO'S FRUIT SALT

is the approved remedy for driving out disease germs. Its action is quick and thorough. It clears the intestines, rouses the torpid liver to new life, stimulates the mucous membrane to a healthy action, and cleanses and invigorates the whole digestive tract.

It may be safely taken at any time by young or old.

It is very effective in the early stage of Diarrhœa by removing the irritating cause.

Be prepared for emergencies by always keeping a bottle in the house.

Prepared only by

A Celebrated Violiniste

Nervous Fatigue, Headaches, Languor—

The power to excel, the confidence which ensures her brilliant successes, says the talented violinist, Miss Sybil Keymer, is entirely due to her abundance of vigorous nerve force created by Phosferine. How greatly the numerous distinctions and triumphant career of this accomplished musician are promoted by the brain energy and physical stamina developed by Phosferine, is evident from Miss Keymer's admission that the tonic "enabled me to do myself justice." This power to excel, this ability to make perfect use of her skill, depends upon the marvellous control and steadiness of the muscle nerves Phosferine has given her, and to which she owes the entrancing tone and quality of her musical renditions. Naturally, this energising effect of Phosferine was accompanied by the disappearance of the headaches, listlessness, and fatigue, which were the bane of her public appearances, and it is this happy outcome which impels Miss Keymer to testify to the exceptional advantages to be derived from Phosferine.

Promptly Remedied.

Miss Sybil Keymer, "Riversmere," Albany Rd., Leighton Buzzard, Eng., writes: "I think I should inform you that I have recently derived very great benefit from the use of Phosferine. In the course of my profession I have to travel a good deal in getting to my various concerts, and I find that since using Phosferine I am never troubled with the headaches and listlessness which follow a long railway journey, particularly during hot weather. This is of very great importance to me, as frequently only a very little time elapses between reaching my destination and the commencement of a concert, and it is such a relief to feel fresh and ready for playing in public undisturbed by the fatigues of long travelling. It is because I feel that Phosferine enables me to do myself justice as a violinist, preventing any of the unsteadiness of the muscle nerves, which is so harmful to tone and quality, that I confidently commend the tonic at every opportunity."—July 11, 1912.

THE PUREST. THE MOST PALATABLE. THE MOST DIGESTIBLE. THE MOST EFFICACIOUS.

SELECT MEDICAL OPINIONS.

SIR G. DUNCAN GIBB, Bart., M.D.,
Physician to the Westminster Hospital.

"The value of DR. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL as a therapeutic agent in a number of diseases, chiefly of an exhaustive character, has been admitted by the world of medicine; but, in addition, I have found it a remedy of great power in the treatment of many Affections of the Throat and Larynx, especially in Consumption of the latter, where it will sustain life when everything else fails."

DR. SINCLAIR COGHILL,
Physician to the Royal National Hospital for Consumption, Ventnor.

"I have convinced myself that in Tubercular and the various forms of Strumous Disease, Dr. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL possesses greater therapeutic efficacy than any other Cod Liver Oil with which I am acquainted. It was especially noted in a large number of cases in which the patients protested they had never been able to retain or digest other Cod Liver Oil, that DR. DE JONGH'S OIL was not only tolerated, but taken readily, and with marked benefit."

JOSEPH J. POPE Esq., M.R.C.S.,
Late Staff Surgeon, Army, Professor of Hygiene, Birkbeck Institution, London.

"I found during my Indian experience that the worth and character of DR. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL remained unchanged by tropical heat or foreign climates, and it was, from its uniformity of character, particularly adapted for long-continued administration. The value of 'hydro-carbons' in all debilitated states of the system is now becoming thoroughly recognized; and it is, without doubt, from the animal oils, and fats, rather than from their vegetable substitutes, that we may hope to derive the surest benefit. The Oil of DR. DE JONGH places in everyone's reach a reliable and valuable remedy, one that cannot be too widely recognised."

DR. R. C. CROFT,
Author of "Handbook for the Nursery."

"DR. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL is almost a specific in many of the Diseases peculiar to Infancy and Childhood, and I have seen marked benefit produced by its use. Patients prefer it to the Pale Oils, and are able to retain it more comfortably."

Dr. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL is Supplied ONLY in IMPERIAL Half-Pints, Pints and Quarts, sealed with BETTY Patent Capsule impressed on the top with DR. DE JONGH'S Stamp, and on the side with his Signature, and the Signature of ANSAR, HARFORD & Co.; and bearing under the wrapper a Label with the same Stamp and Signatures.

IF YOU ARE SUFFERING from any such disease as ECZEMA, SCROFULA, BAD LEGS, ABSCESSES, ULCERS, GLANDULAR SWELLINGS, BOILS, PIMPLES, SORES OF ANY KIND, PILES, BLOOD POISON, RHEUMATISM, GOUT, etc., don't waste your time and money on useless lotions and messy ointments which cannot get below the surface of the skin. What you want and what you must have to be permanently cured is a medicine that will thoroughly free the blood of the poisonous matter which alone is the true cause of all your suffering.

CLARKE'S BLOOD MIXTURE.
THE WORLD FAMED BLOOD PURIFIER
is just such a medicine. It is composed of ingredients which quickly attack, overcome, and expel from the blood all impurities from whatever cause arising, and by rendering it clean and pure can be relied on to effect a complete and lasting cure.
Here is good proof of its efficacy :—

POISONED FOOT CURED

"Some time ago I had an accident to my left foot (ran a nail into it), it festered, and got so bad that the doctor was called in and said I had poisoned it. For 3 years I was under different doctors and for one year of the three I only went out in a bath chair. Not only during that time did I entirely lose the little toe of my left foot, but a gaping wound came in the inside of the same foot. It was so bad that when I bathed it I fancied I could see the bones. At last I decided to try 'Clarke's Blood Mixture,' and with the end of the second small bottle the discharge had stopped, and within a month I could get my foot to the ground. It is as well now as it ever was, of course, very scarred and a toe short, but I am sure I should have been a foot short had it gone on."

"WORTH £5 A DOSE"

"I also recommended it to a Sergeant's wife at Aldershot, whose husband had an open sore for seven years, the result of a sword thrust in Burma. She said she couldn't get him to try it for a long time, but at last he did, and the wound has completely healed. She told me that often after a long march he has writhed in agony and often fainted. When they were leaving to go to another station he came on purpose to say good-bye and thank me. He said he'd never forget me for being the cause of his trying it, and that it was worth £5 a dose.—Yours truly, (Mrs.) M. Cousins, 187 Twyford avenue, Portsmouth," England.
